2. Accessible City Communications

By Councillor Scott

In 2013, former Disability Discrimination Commissioner Graeme Innes AM successfully sued RailCorp NSW in the Federal Magistrates Court. It was alleged by Mr Innes RailCorp NSW's failure to provide audible announcements breached Federal Disability Discrimination Law, as Mr Innes is vision impaired.

The Federal Magistrates Court ruled RailCorp's failure to make adequate announcements represents indirect discrimination. As a result, Mr Innes was awarded compensation.

Question

1. Has the City considered the implications of this decision, and if so, what steps have been taken to make changes to City communications?
2. In what ways has the City taken steps to mitigate against the risk of future claims against the City in light of this decision?
3. What measures does the City have planned in future to ensure our communications are accessible to all members of the public, including those living with a disability?
