Martin Place – Proud to be smoke-free

The City of Sydney is undertaking a smoke-free trial in Martin Place to improve public health in this busy open space.

The 12-month trial aims to promote civic pride and amenity with a focus on a healthier way of life.

This initiative is supported by the NSW Heart Foundation, Cancer Council NSW and Cancer Institute NSW.

New signs will be installed and City staff will be on site to raise awareness about the new smoke-free space.

The trial started on Monday 11 May 2015.

Provide your feedback

The smoke-free trial in Martin Place will be evaluated and a report will be submitted to Council.

We encourage you to give us your feedback about the trial as part of the evaluation process.

NSW smoke free legislation

Smoking restrictions

Smoking laws were changed in 2012 making it illegal to smoke in some outdoor spaces including:

- public transport stops and stations
- around entrances to public buildings
- near children's playgrounds
- near spectators at sports grounds.

The NSW Government has also announced that smoking in outdoor dining areas will be prohibited from July 2015, and will include smoking bans on footpaths outside licensed cafés and pubs.

Since July 2007, smoking has been prohibited in all enclosed areas of licensed premises open to the public in NSW with the exception of private gaming rooms at The Star casino. NSW Health may impose penalties if a person smokes, or a venue allows someone to smoke, in a smoke-free area.
