DECISION

BACKGROUND

The City and Transport for NSW’s Sydney Coordination Office (SCO) have reviewed parking operations in Sussex Street, Sydney, between Goulburn and Hay Streets, and is considering a proposal to rationalise parking in accordance to the City’s Central Sydney On-Street Parking Policy.

COMMENTS

The kerb space in Sussex Street, between Goulburn and Hay Streets, is currently signposted with 13 different parking restrictions.

The City and SCO have reviewed parking operations in Sussex Street and found that there is an opportunity to rationalise parking restrictions in accordance with the City's Central Sydney On-Street Parking Policy. The Policy prioritises parking for delivery and service vehicles, mobility parking, coach parking and then general kerb side parking.

The proposal to rationalise parking will:

- Provide three additional parking spaces;
- Improve access to on-street parking for delivery and service vehicles during business hours;
- Provide a compliant "Disability Parking Only" space; and
- Extend the coach parking space to improve the pick-up and drop-off passengers.

The majority of parking (40 parking spaces) is proposed to be signposted as "Loading Zone Ticket 6am-6pm Mon-Fri, 6am-10am Sat" and "4P Ticket 6pm-12am Mon-Fri, 10am-10pm Sat, 8am-10pm Sun & Public Holidays".

The proposed parking change will also retain the existing car share space, relocate the existing "Disability Parking Only" space to a compliant location and extend the coach parking zone to improve the pick-up and drop-off passengers.

CONSULTATION

The City consulted local residents and businesses in the area. There were 1,104 letters sent out with no responses supporting the proposal and one submission with 20 signatures opposing the proposal due to the loss of general parking during the day.

The proposed parking changes are in accordance with the City's Central Sydney On-Street Parking Policy that prioritises parking for delivery and service vehicles, mobility parking, coach parking and then general kerb side parking.
