Background

The report prepared in relation to Development Application D/2022/810 at 110-122 Oxford Street, Darlinghurst was prepared with an assessment against the relevant planning instruments and draft planning instruments that were applicable at the time of writing of the report. On 2 December 2022, Amendment No 77 to Sydney Local Environmental Plan (SLEP) 2012 was made under delegation by the Minister for Planning and was published on the NSW legislation website on 13 December 2022. The amendment brings into force the additional height and floor space controls for the Oxford Street Cultural and Creative Precinct as described and assessed within the report as draft controls. There are no savings provisions in relation to the controls.

The proposal complies with the maximum permitted alternative height of buildings standard of 24 metres that applies to the site. The proposal complies with the maximum permitted alternative floor space ratio of 4.5:1 for the site. As outlined within the assessment report, at least 10% of the gross floor area of the building has been identified for use for a cultural or creative purposes in accordance with the provisions. As the development complies with these controls, the request to vary the controls pursuant to clause 4.6 of SLEP 2012 are no longer required, and the recommendation for the application has been updated above.

The SLEP amendments also include further considerations for the consent authority to be satisfied as follows.

6.60D Oxford Street Cultural and Creative Precinct	Comment
(5) Development consent must not be granted to development on land to which this clause applies unless the consent authority has considered whether the development promotes land uses that will attract pedestrian traffic along ground floor street frontages in the Oxford Street Cultural and Creative Precinct.	The proposal will continue to include retail tenancies to the Oxford Street elevation, and an entry lobby to the commercial and cultural and creative tenancies located throughout the building. It is considered that these land uses will attract pedestrian traffic along the ground floor street frontage within the Oxford Street Cultural and Creative Precinct.
(6) Development consent must not be granted to the erection or change of use of a building with a standard height and floor space ratio on land to which this clause applies unless the consent authority has considered the impact of the development on— (a) the status of the Oxford Street Cultural and Creative Precinct as a strategic centre encouraging development for cultural or creative purposes, and (b) the availability of floor space to be used for cultural or creative purposes.	The proposal utilises the alternative height and FSR controls, rather than the standard height and FSR controls that apply to the site and therefore the provision does not apply. Nevertheless, the proposal does provide for floor space for cultural and creative purposes that will contribute to the status of the Oxford Street Cultural and Creative Precinct.

An addition to the reasons for the recommendation is included to reflect the above.

The remainder of the assessment contained within the report remains relevant for the consideration of the application.
