Long Term Funding for Social Services

By Councillor Scott

It is resolved that:

- (A) Council note:
- (i) City of Sydney Grants and Sponsorships Program Guidelines are updated annually with the latest version published in February 2021;
 - (ii) an updated version of the City of Sydney Grants and Sponsorships policy was adopted by Council on 22 February 2021;
 - (iii) the Grants and Sponsorships Policy and Program Guidelines have a Community Services grant category which provides funding for “community programs or projects that help increase equality in the local area, develop resilient and adaptive communities and support strong governance and civic engagement for sustainability. The program assists organisations to pilot or trial innovative services or establish a program that addresses an unmet need for City of Sydney residents, workers and visitors”;
 - (iv) City of Sydney Community Service Grants provide funding on an annual basis for one to three years;
 - (v) most community service workers do not have enterprise agreements and their remuneration and entitlements are instead determined by the Social, Community, Home Care and Disability Services Industry (SCHADS) Award;
 - (vi) in 2010, the Australian Services Union started a campaign for fair pay in the social and community sector. In 2012 this campaign was won and resulted in SCHADS Award pay increases of between 35 per cent to 45 per cent sector wide. These increases have been phased in over eight years from 2012 to 2020;
 - (vii) the bulk of increasing operational costs of social and community services over that past eight to nine years have been due to increasing staffing costs as the SCHADS Award has increased;
 - (viii) other cost increases of providing social and community services include food, insurance and WHS;
 - (ix) increases to the SCHADS Award are now determined annually by the Fair Work Commission based on several factors including annual increases to cost of living and that the community services sector has traditionally been a low paid sector;
 - (x) annual increases to the SCHADS Award are determined by the Fair Work Commission and announced in June each year; and

- (xi) in June 2021, the SCHADS Award remuneration was increased by 2.5 per cent and super was increased by 0.5 per cent, a total increase of 3.0 per cent; and
- (B) the Chief Executive Officer be requested to, in line with the City of Sydney's City for All Strategy, and as part of the City's Grants Policy Review, investigate creating a long-term funding program for social and community services that increases annually in line with increasing staffing and resource costs of City based services.
