Part A

Management Framework

1. Introduction

What is a PoM

A Plan of Management (“PoM”) is a document which provides a clear set of guidelines for the short and long-term management of a parcel of community land owned by Council or Crown land under Council’s care, control and management.

A PoM outlines how a park, facility or civic space will be used, improved and managed in the future. It identifies Council’s goals and objectives for the land, and establishes the overall direction for its planning, resource management and maintenance.

Under section 37 of the Local Government Act 1993, the PoM must also:

- Describe the condition of the land, any buildings or other improvements on the land as at the adoption of the plan
- Describe the use of the land
- State the purposes for which the land will be used.

This PoM has been prepared in accordance with and seeks adoption under the LG Act and CLM Act.

Need for the PoM

The Crown Land Management Act 2016 (“CLM Act”) commenced on 1 July 2018, introducing a consolidated, modern piece of legislation to govern the management of Crown land in New South Wales.

The CLM Act introduces significant changes to the management of Crown land by councils. Specifically, councils are now required to manage dedicated or reserved Crown land as if it were public land under the Local Government Act 1993 (“LG Act”).

Wentworth Park (Crown Reserve D. 1002206) is now treated as “community land” under the LG Act requiring a PoM.

Process for preparing the PoM

Figure 1 on the following page illustrates the process for preparing the PoM that has been undertaken by the City of Sydney.

The process has integrated extensive consultation with the broader community, First Nations stakeholders and other authority stakeholders.

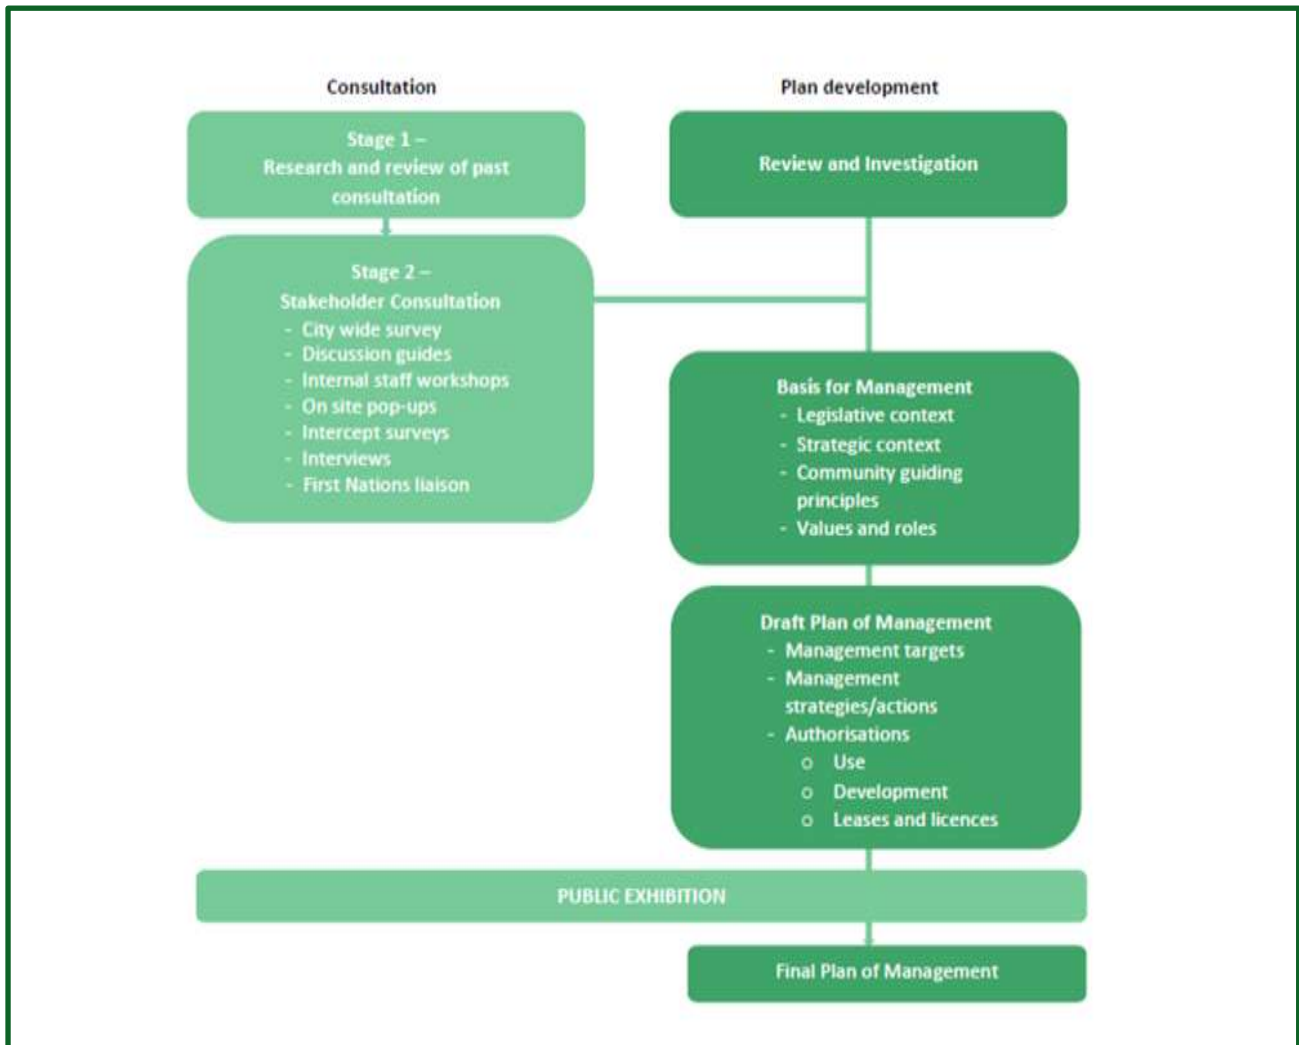

Purpose of the PoM

Under section 36 of the Local Government Act 1993, a PoM must:

- Categorise the land in accordance with the legislation
- Contain objectives and performance targets for the management of the land
- Specify the means by which Council proposes to achieve the objectives and performance targets
- Specify how achievement of the objectives and performance targets are to be assessed.

Activities

Consultation

Purpose of the consultation program

The purpose of the community engagement was to understand the community's vision for Crown land spaces, how the community use the land now and how they would like to use the land in the future.

An important aspect of the engagement program was to recognise the important relationship that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples have to these spaces, strengthen the relationship with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and use the PoMs as an opportunity to further recognise and foster Aboriginal peoples custodianship, living culture and connection to these places.

The opportunity to participate in the engagement program was communicated to the community via:

- A letter to local residents from the City of Sydney
- Sydney Your Say web page
- Notification signs in parks
- Decals with QR code on footpaths in parks, reserves and civic spaces
- E-newsletter sent to targeted stakeholder list.

Wentworth Park Plan of Management

The Engagement program

The engagement program consisted of an online survey, intercept surveys and pop-ups at some of the Crown land spaces, a conversation guide and community and staff workshops.

The surveys and pop-up boards sought to gather statistical data around community values and uses of Crown land, and the workshops provided an opportunity for more in depth discussions around Crown land within different locations across the city and specifically with the First Nations community.

Children's activity kits were also sent to schools in the area and provided an opportunity for children in years 3-6 to participate.

Detailed findings of the engagement program are outlined in the separate Crown Reserves Plan of Management Engagement Report February 2021.

What we heard – community engagement

The community engagement report noted the following highlights:

- Strong support for the recognition and practice of First Nations peoples continuous connection to Country and important role as caretakers and knowledge holders of these spaces
- Public open spaces are important for mental health, wellbeing and provide a place of refuge and sanctuary for all
- Open, green and natural public spaces in the city are highly valued and should accommodate the needs of the growing population
- Accessible, safe and inclusive open spaces are important for everyone to enjoy
- Diverse and unique open spaces that manage our shared spaces fairly
- Open spaces that support wildlife and biodiversity
- Preserving our open spaces and safeguarding their history for the future
- Improving amenities in our open spaces to increase accessibility and support community use

City-wide survey: seek to understand community values and visions for their open spaces (informs both generic and specific Plans of Management)

Discussion guides: guided opportunity for regular user groups (e.g schools, sporting clubs) to map values, and places of significance.

Internal staff workshop: internal City of Sydney staff workshop

Engagement tools to inform general plans of management

City-wide survey: opportunity to comment on general issues in addition to specific parks according to preference.

Discussion guides: guided opportunity for regular user groups (e.g schools, sporting clubs) to map values, and places of significance.

On-site pop-ups/intercept surveys: pop-ups/intercept surveys in the specific parks at specific times to capture a wide variety of feedback.

Interviews with key stakeholders: We will conduct interviews with key external stakeholders.

Engagement tools to inform specific plans of management

Work in partnership with local First Nations leaders and groups: liaison with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander stakeholders.

Children told us they value parks because...

"It has at least one thing everybody likes"

"Its just beautiful"

"There is space"

"They make me happy"

"When going outdoors it's nice to be in a place that is well maintained and easy to access"

"I like having time with nature"

"Everyone's welcome there"

What we heard – First Nations engagement

A series of general principles for the integration of First Nations input into the management of Crown land in the City of Sydney were identified during the conversations. These included:

- Access to land as a human right of Indigenous peoples (UN Convention on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples)
- Recognition and respect for sacred sites and places
- Truth telling
- Talking about Country helps bring the community together
- The environment as living culture
- Importance of waterways and wetlands-rivers tell stories
- Creating opportunities for Aboriginal economic benefit
- First Nations design principles that recognise:
 - local cultural knowledge
 - sustainability and resilience

Putting the principles into action – potential ways that these principles can be followed through by Council and others were also discussed:

The environment as living culture

Imagine having a space like this in Sydney that is real and permanent, not just digital (in response to Brett Leavy's animation – Warrane)

- Respecting ancestral sites
- Connecting places by Songlines (these include many main roads in Sydney)
- Returning country to how it was (pre-invasion)
- A holistic approach: not just land but also water, sky, seasons, cultural calendar, plants and animals
- Implement 'Caring for Country' principles (including maintenance, planting, holistic understanding of Country, etc.)
- Important to return the knowledge of waterways and wetlands. Rivers tell stories and are an historical link that have been covered up over time

- Commitment to healing Country
- Designing with Country – a number of participants referred to the work of the State Government Architect

Language and naming

The use of language needs to go beyond naming

- Dual naming in local language based on a geographical feature
- Incorporating Gadigal language into descriptions will help the community better understand the meaning of these places
- Recognising that the first language of this place is the authentic language
- Removal of colonial names of parks

Decolonising spaces and truth-telling

We need a different way of looking at 'monuments' – as significant, empowering, culturally correct markers of the truth

- Trees of significance as monuments
- Sites of significance as monuments
- Take leadership on dealing with colonial artefacts
- Gadigal artists creating new markers of truth

Visibility

We are here - this land was never ceded

- The need to make this more visible in Sydney
- Participants referenced how New Zealand is Indigenous culture, practices and perspectives visible to international visitors
- The potential to push digital notifications when walking on different bits of land (i.e. a notification to acknowledge/welcome to country, when you are close to a sacred site or a burial ground, etc.)
- Permanent acknowledgement in each space that enlivens and engages - not just commemorative

Significance of Sydney as the site of invasion and first contact

Make these important places recognisable to Aboriginal people

- Sydney as the first frontier means it is a critical place for truth-telling and healing trauma

- Recognise the cultural disruption and diaspora in Sydney
- Burial grounds and should be part of truth-telling
- Recognise places of protest

Practicing and sharing culture and supporting community

- Returning cultural fishing (e.g. Woolloomooloo and Pyrmont)
- Dedicated spaces to practice culture and interact with the community
- Dedicated ceremonial spaces practical for events
- Maker-spaces (places for creating) that are culturally correct
- Locations to busk, make things, be social and demonstrate culture
- Importance of community festivals – Yabun at Victoria Park

Economic and cultural ownership and management

- Importance of cultural ownership and intellectual property rights
- Ongoing employment and business opportunities at all levels
- Making, markets, food, trading, learning etc should be able to be practiced somewhere permanently (not a one-off event).
- There are effective working examples of shared arrangements with State Government (DPIE) who work with Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council on protecting and managing places
- The Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council sought that the City of Sydney provides Crown Land or City-owned sites to MLALC for local Aboriginal community needs of culture, health wellbeing, housing and business
- The Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council asked that the City of Sydney support addressing the issue of underpayment of NSW Aboriginal Land Rights fund of $500 Million in perpetuity for all Freehold, Leasehold, Pastoral, National Parks, State Forests, Reserves and Parks as well as mineral and water

Advocacy/leadership/influence

- Encourage the City of Sydney to take on the hard issues and use position to influence other organisations including other councils and government departments
- Work with other authorities who have ownership over Crown land parcels
- Advocate and work at local, state and federal levels

Barriers

Several existing barriers to First Nations peoples cultural and spiritual use of Crown land were raised that the community want to see resolved. These include:

- Red-tape constraints to the economic use of spaces
- Barriers to the practice of living culture.

It is proposed that the City of Sydney continue to engage with the First Nations community to explore avenues to pursue the above principles and actions.

Section 5 of this plan details a series of “Community Guiding Principles”. It is proposed that ongoing management of Crown and community land pursue these principles.

Specific feedback related to Wentworth Park

The engagement report identifies the following outcomes specifically related to the subject site.

people completed the online survey for Wentworth Park.

Current visitation to Wentworth Park

- The majority of survey respondents live nearby to Wentworth Park (82%; 9 respondents), followed by respondents who visit the area (36%; 4).
- Respondents were more likely to visit the park weekly (45%; 5) or daily (18%; 2).
- Respondents usually visit Wentworth Park in the afternoon (12pm - 4pm) (45%; 5). This was followed by respondents who visit in the early morning (before 9am) and morning (9am - 12pm) (36%; 4, respectively).

What people value about Wentworth Park

Survey respondents were asked to choose what they value most about Wentworth Park.

The majority of respondents indicated they value Wentworth Park as a cultural place (64%; 7).

This was followed by:

- Its buzzing atmosphere (36%; 4)
- It's a peaceful place (27%; 3), and
- It's well maintained (27%; 3).

Other reasons why respondents value Wentworth Park include it's close to the fish markets and Glebe Point Road, it is a much more pleasing scenery than bridge Road, its potential as a large park and it is unceded Aboriginal land.

Why people value Wentworth Park

Survey respondents were asked why they chose these values. Responses included:

- Important to have access to open space in the inner city (2 comments)
- Important to retain open green space for sports, passive and active recreation and leisure
- One of the very few places for field sports in the inner City, and
- Important to safeguard the natural elements and the sporting spaces for a future of higher density living and the new fish market developments.

Some respondents expressed they would like to see the removal of the greyhound racing complex (3 comments), with an opportunity for City of Sydney Council to lobby for its removal to connect the park. One respondent also indicated the park does not benefit or serve local residents of the area, as it is primarily used for formal sporting and the greyhound racing track, and would like to see the greyhound racing complex removed to open up access and broaden the parks capacity for different user groups.

Respondents told us...

"Important to have open green space for recreation such as the children's playground and soccer field, shade and visual beauty from the Morton bay figs and a place for people to sit or walk."

- Survey respondent

"It's one of very few places for field sports in close proximity to the City."

- Survey respondent

"It's a great open space in the inner city. The downside is the Greyhound Racing Complex which splits the park into two. I know that its ownership is not within the City of Sydney's jurisdiction but would ask that the council continue to lobby for any chance to remove it."

- Survey respondent

"With the removal of the dog track and associated buildings (not the school), the park could be a major park for the vastly increasing number of residents in flats in the surrounding."

- Survey respondent

"I don't believe that Wentworth Park has any values for locals. It appears to have only two functions. One is to house the monstrous dog track and to act as a car park during meetings. The other is as a football location for soccer and touch football. This of course doesn't serve locals but non locals who cause massive congestion with their cars, especially during touch football, cause noise pollution for locals until 9.00pm. As an open space it is a blight. Perhaps when the dog track is removed something decent can be achieved that will benefit locals."

- Survey respondent

Wentworth Park Plan of Management

Current activities at Wentworth Park

Survey respondents were asked what are current activities they do at Wentworth Park.

64% or 7 respondents (respectively) indicated walking through to get somewhere else and walking or running for exercise is the most popular activity they do at Wentworth Park.

This was followed by sitting and relaxing and walking the dog (27%; 3, respectively).

Future activities at Wentworth Park

When asked if there is anything else respondents would like to do at Wentworth Park in the future, key activities include:

- Opportunity for communal green spaces (2 comments) such as community gardens
- Swim, exercise, arts, events, and kids activities
- Events such as drive-in-cinema, open air cinema and night markets, carols-by-candlelight, and
- Anything other than greyhound racing.

Additional comments about Wentworth Park

Survey respondents were asked if there was anything else they would like to share about Wentworth Park. Comments included:

- Remove the Greyhound racing complex (2 comments:
 - Create a master plan for the park to increase gardens, quiet places for rest and relaxation as well as playing fields
 - Expand the parks current capacity for different user groups, particularly to accommodate for the growing population and increasing density
- A lot of the existing space is wasted, and
- It is a good open area for spacious choice of uses.

Respondents told us...

"Some gardens and places to sit. Some Victorian gardens as a tribute to the gardens that existed here many years ago before the coming of the raceway and grandstand."

- Survey respondent

"Drive-by-cinema; Open air cinema; Hawker food staff; Night market; Carols-by-Candlelight."

- Survey respondent

"Could be so much better. The Greyhound race course and stands should be dismantled at the end of the lease in 2027 and a master plan for the park created with more gardens & quiet places for rest and relaxation as well as playing fields"

- Survey respondent

"Use of the park is limited due to the Greyhound track, if there's an initiative to rethink how the park is going to be used it should include relocating the track. As the track itself is seldom used, but the parkland around it is used all the time for team sports, walking pets, group training sessions, running paths, school events, picnics, barbecues and more! This can be scaled so more people can enjoy the park more often if the greyhound track is relocated. Glebe and its surrounds is increasingly more populated as more densely populated apartments are built, the demand for outdoor space for these communities is rising."

- Survey respondent

"I'd love to have communal green spaces like a community garden."

- Survey respondent

2. Land description

Location and description

Wentworth Park is located in Ultimo, bounded by Bridge Road, Wattle Street, William Henry Street and Wentworth Park Road. It's northern end is within close proximity to Blackwattle Bay and the Sydney Fishmarkets.

The park is approximately 15 hectares and is located 1.5km to the west of the CBD.

The Wentworth Park Sporting Complex, also known as the Greyhound Complex, is situated in the middle of the park. The complex is Crown land managed by the Wentworth Park Sporting Complex and is not subject to this Plan of Management. However, due to the inter-related nature of the park it is necessary to consider the influence of the complex in the development of this Plan of Management and review of past master planning.

The table below summarises key land information for Wentworth Park. A Site Plan has been provided on page 16, refer to Figure 2.

Heritage and culture

Overview

Wentworth Park was dedicated as a Public Park in 1885. The original park layout was in the Gardenesque style which was hugely influential during this era.

The land the park is sited on lies within the traditional lands of the Gadigal people.

This area was originally the swampy mouth of the creekline known as Blackwattle Creek. The creek would have been a source of fresh water and used as a resource for food by the Gadigal people prior to European arrival in 1788.

By the middle of the nineteenth century the area had been highly modified with the expanding city population and the establishment of various noxious industries. Abattoirs and boiling down works located along the shore of the creek and Blackwattle Bay had polluted the swamp. The council lobbied to have the swamp filled due to the stench from the polluted water and mud.

Following the Blackwattle Land Reclamation Act of 1873 filling of the creek and head of the swamp commenced in 1876 and continued until 1880 using silt dredged from the harbour.

When the area was filled trustees were appointed to manage the new park and a competition was announced to design the new facility.

By 1882, ovals, greens, paths, lakes and other facilities were completed, and the park was named after NSW Statesman William Charles Wentworth (1790–1872).

During the 1880's and 1890's the park came to serve as a focus for community activities including concerts, celebrations, moving picture shows and in particular sport – cricket and football. The early years of the 20th century saw the removal of the lakes, and the establishment of a kindergarten in 1914.

Parts of the park were used during both World War 1 and 2 for warehouses to store wool for the war effort.

In 1919, the high-level railway viaduct was built, which now carries the inner-west light rail line.

In October 1932, greyhound racing began in the park and as time went on the dog racing facilities grew to dominate the park.

In 1979, the National Coursing Association applied to construct a large new grandstand which was eventually completed in 1985.

The park continues to be a large and important area of valuable open space in a densely populated part of Sydney, which relates well visually to historic Glebe and Ultimo.

History

If you stood on the sandstone spine of the Pyrmont peninsula in the early 1800's you would have seen an ancient antipodean landscape sprawled out below. The land was forested with smooth bark apples, red bloodwoods, grey and peppermint gums with an understorey of wattle, cheesewood and mock orange. The Blackwattle Creek fed into the swamp subsequently reclaimed for Wentworth Park. Small streams formed a delta at Cockle Bay where later streets would be built over land normally only seen at low tide. Port Jackson Fig trees clustered on two high headlands which tumbled down to sandy bays edged by caves and freshwater springs.

Before the colonists arrived, the creek was a source of fresh water for Aboriginal people, and a place for fishing and other activities.

Some archaeological traces of Aboriginal people living along the creek have survived to the present day and have been recorded nearby the park around Mountain Street. Aboriginal campsites have been identified on what would have been the original banks of the swamp at the head of Blackwattle Bay with evidence found during archaeological excavations undertaken prior to the redevelopment in the early 2000's.

(summarised from

<https://www.sydneymarani.com.au/sites/blackwattle-creek/>)

During the early decades of colonisation, the creek was located at the edge of town, but by the middle of the 19th century, the course of the creek was highly modified and densely inhabited by some of Sydney's poorest residents.

Between the 1830's and 1860 various noxious industries were established along the creekline, including abattoirs and boiling down works. The waste from these works polluted the swamp. Even after the removal of these establishments from the area in 1860, the local council lobbied to have the area filled in because of the stench from the water and mud.

In 1873, the Blackwattle Reclamation Act was passed. Filling the creek and head of the swamp commenced in 1876 and continued until 1880. Silt dredged from the harbour was used and numerous sea walls and dykes were constructed as part of the program. When the area was filled trustees were appointed to manage the new park and a competition was announced to design the new facility.

By 1882, ovals, greens, paths, lakes and other facilities were completed, and the park was named after NSW Statesman William Charles Wentworth (1790–1872). The park was dedicated as a Public Park in November 1885.

James Jones, the overseer of The Domain was responsible for the layout of Wentworth Park in the Gardenesque style. This included a curving path system accompanied by plantings of evergreen and deciduous trees.

The central focus was the enclosed cricket ground, an ornamental lake with islands, and an unenclosed football ground. The bowling green and pavilion of the Glebe Bowling Club was located on the north-eastern corner of the park. Later, an elegant rotunda, where the Pyrmont and Glebe brass bands played on summer evenings was constructed on the park's western edge.

During the 1880's and 1890's the park came to serve as a focus for community activities including concerts, celebrations, moving picture shows and in particular sport, especially Rugby. The Glebe District Cricket Club included well-known Australian players such as Tibby Cotter, Warren Bardsley, Charlie Kelleway and Bert Oldfield. These sportsmen played their home game fixtures at Wentworth Park from 1893. At the end of the 1922/23 season the Glebe District Cricket Club had played their last first grade game at Wentworth Park relocating to Jubilee Oval, Glebe their new home ground.

The early years of the 20th century saw the removal of the lakes, and the establishment of a kindergarten in 1914.

During World War 1, a large number of timber sheds were erected on the northern sports ground to store wool for the war effort. These sheds remained extant for several years after the end of the war. In 1919, the high-level railway viaduct was built, which now carries the inner-west light rail line.

In October 1932, greyhound racing began in the park and as time went on the dog racing facilities grew to dominate the park. These interventions evolved from brick walls to grandstands, to tote buildings and kiosks.

During World War 2, the American troops established a camp in Wentworth Park and more wool stores were built, although these were eventually demolished in the 1950's.

Wentworth Park Plan of Management

In 1979, the National Coursing Association applied to construct a large new grandstand which was eventually completed in 1985. As well as greyhound racing, the complex is used for soccer, rugby league, rugby union, public exams, functions and community events. Local schools also have access to the facilities.

Statement of Significance

Wentworth Park has aesthetic, historic, archaeological and social significance. Comprising the traditional land and fresh water resources belonging to the First Australians.

Known as Black Wattle Swamp Cove, following colonisation is today called Wentworth Park became the location for noxious industry needing access to fresh water. This evidences significant early shaping forces in the growth and development of Sydney as well as colonial attitudes to the environment. The area of the existing park and its configuration are significant historically as they confirm the boundary of the headwaters of Black Wattle Swamp Cove.

The park demonstrates historical significance through government reclamation and changing attitudes towards landscape design, public open space and recreation. Designed in the gardenesque style, by James Jones, the overseer of Domains, the park has been used for various forms of sport and public recreation including cricket, rugby, greyhound racing, soccer, fun parks, a speedway, since the late nineteenth century and has contemporary social values as a recreational facility for the community.

*The park evidences mature plantings, especially of Moreton Bay Figs (Ficus macrophylla), which have considerable historic and aesthetic significance. The park includes several built elements which are individual significant. Wentworth park provides a large and importance area of valuable open space in a densely populated part of Sydney, which relates well visually to historic Glebe and Ultimo.*

The Park is associated with Australia's war effort during WW1. A series of large timber sheds were erected within the park to store wool. Wentworth park is dissected by a brick-arched railway viaduct which is a fine industrial structure in its own right which evidences the growth in trade and the movement of goods. The park has potential for unknown subsurface features, which may yield information which can contribute to an understanding of the history, structure and use of the park.

Key heritage features

Key elements of the park include:

- Children's playground
- Sports fields
- Greyhound Complex

Elements of significance:

- Railway viaduct
- NCA Steward's Office
- NCA Entry Tower
- Cold Store (former toilet)
- Brick retaining wall
- 41 Moreton Bay Fig (Ficus macrophylla)
- 15 Hills Weeping Fig (Ficus microcarpa var. hillii)
- 1 River Red Gum (Eucalyptus camaldulesis)

Environment and landscape

Wentworth Park is an historic park and has played a significant role in catering for major sporting and other recreational pursuits on the city fringe for over 100 years. The park is an important open space resource set within a high-density residential and commercial area.

Pre-existing Natural Characteristics:

This area was originally the swampy mouth of the creek variously known as Black Wattle or Blackwattle Creek. After colonisation, pollution of the adjoining bay by noxious industries severely impacted the swamp land and it was later filled with levels raised to form the land that exists today.

Physical Characteristics:

Landform, Soil, Drainage

The park area was originally filled with silt dredged from the harbour. The park is currently flat and can remain very wet for considerable periods after rain. Past problems with drainage and soil compaction are still relevant.

A 1991 soils study highlighted the cause to be crusting and compaction of the topsoil causing low infiltration, surface ponding, poor profile drainage and reduced wear tolerance of turf.

Wentworth Park Plan of Management

These issues were attributed to the result of carparking in the southern and central sections and to a lesser extent regular sporting fixtures in the central section of the park. Carparking has been largely removed from the park apart from occasional use in the southern section related to Greyhound Complex.

Vegetation/ Planting

The park has a mature tree canopy to the periphery. The double row plantation (avenue) of Moreton Bay Figs (Ficus macrophylla), located along the northern boundary adjoining Bridge Road have a broad range of sizes ranging between 10-18 metres in height with a combined canopy of 25-30 metres in diameter extending over the roadway and parkland.

The two Moreton Bay Figs (Ficus macrophylla) near the children's playground have achieved extraordinary proportions in this protected site (22-25 metres in height, 35 metres individual canopy spread and 2.0-2.5m base diameters). Their massively spreading canopies create a distinctive cloistered landscape character and dramatic sense of place.

The City of Sydney's Ecology Team has recorded known priority fauna sightings of microbat species within the park. The park has been identified with potential to provide a habitat linkage corridor between other open spaces.

Landscape Character and visual amenity

The park is currently dominated by the Greyhound Complex. The complex effectively divides the park into two separate areas. The section to the north of the complex is further divided by the railway viaduct now used by the light rail. Three recreational settings have previously been defined for the park, as follows:

- The north-western section – a regional park emphasising a link with Blackwattle Bay
- The central section – active sporting use
- The south-east section – a local park focus

Segregation of the park by the railway viaduct and Greyhound Complex means the full extent of the park is not apparent from either end. While long views within the park are interrupted by built facilities, the views to the city/CBD skyline are available from the northern section.

The large fig trees are visually significant elements along the north and eastern boundaries of the park.

Access and Circulation

Access to the park - The park is surrounded by major city roads – Bridge Road, Wattle Street and Wentworth Park Road.

The volume of traffic restricts pedestrian access to key crossing and nodal points. There are traffic lights at the intersections of Bridge Road/Wattle Street, Wattle Street/Quarry Street, Wattle Street/William Henry Street and Wentworth Park/Bay Street plus a dedicated pedestrian light crossing for Wentworth Park Light Rail Station. There is also one zebra crossing across Wentworth Park Road near Cowper Street.

There are a number of access points into the park from the adjacent public footpath, but these are not always associated with formalised footpaths. Many of these points provide stepped access only due to the level difference from the public footpath and park level. There are a number of openings within the brick boundary wall to provide informal access into the park.

The main visitor entry and vehicle service entry to the Greyhound Complex is located on Wentworth Park Road. An entry on Wattle Street provides access to on-site visitor parking area for the complex. There is no visitor parking available within the park for park users. On-street time restricted parking is available on Wattle Street and Wentworth Park Road.

Circulation within the park – As the park is segregated by the Greyhound Complex, users must walk along the public footpaths on either side of the park to access the southern and northern portions.

The only formal paths within the park are in the south-eastern portion and are heavily used by local commuters and school children.

Movement through the northern sections of the park, where there are few formal paths can be severely restricted after major rain events.

Park upgrade works in 2007 and 2010 included improving the boundary treatments and entries to the Greyhound Complex to improve the visual and physical street and park frontages.

Reserve purpose and community use

Crown Reserve Purpose

Crown land is to be used for the original purpose for which it was dedicated or reserved. Multiple uses of reserves are encouraged, where those uses are consistent with the original purpose of the Crown reserve.

The public purpose for Wentworth Park Crown reserve are Public Recreation and Educational Purposes.

Community usage

Wentworth Park serves as a regional park which attracts many users from outside the local area due to the sports field facilities and central location. Since the Draft Plan of Management 1991, there have been major residential and commercial developments in the surrounding suburbs – Pyrmont, Ultimo and Glebe that have significantly increased the local residential and working populations. Reuse of the railway viaduct for the light rail and associated stations have allowed easier access to the park and key destinations. Demands on Wentworth Park as an open space have increased and future planned developments will add further pressure.

The park provides a variety of recreational opportunities ranging from active sport, pedestrian and cycling thoroughfares, children's playspace, fitness stations, a place for walking and simply the appreciation of open space. The local community and visitors enjoy the many sport fields and picnic areas with lots of seating and water bubblers available.

The sports fields are used for social and club competitions throughout the year and cater for soccer, touch football, rugby and cricket.

The north-east corner of the park is increasingly popular with informal picnics by visitors to the Fish Markets.

Amenities the park provides include:

- Cricket nets
- Public toilets/accessible
- Playground with shade covers, picnic facilities, fitness equipment nodes

- Lit sports fields enabling evening use.

The park allows dogs off-leash at all times. This is prohibited in the sports fields during games, barbecue and playground areas.

Users

Recent user intercept surveys indicate that the most popular activities in the park are:

- Walking through
- Walking or running for exercise
- Sitting and relaxing
- A place to walk the dog.

Majority of the survey respondents were more likely to live nearby the park, followed by respondents who visit the area. Nearly half of the respondents were likely to visit the park on a weekly basis. The most popular time to visit the park was in the afternoon followed by early morning, before 9am.

Schools usage

- Temporary building use by the NSW Department of Education within the southern portion of the park to accommodate students whilst renovation/building works are undertaken at the Fort Street Public School.
- During school hours, the park is utilised by a number of nearby local schools where available green space is limited.

Greyhound racing

- The Greyhound Complex currently utilises an area within the centre of the park and on the western side of the complex for parking on race days/nights. Access is via swing gates and a driveway on Wentworth Park Road.

Event use of the park

The park is regularly used for various sporting events and fixtures throughout the year. This includes weekdays, weekends and evening use. On occasion, the park has also hosted promotional events and festivals.

Attendance has ranged up to 500 people. The City of Sydney registered 14 events between 2015-19.

3. Legislative context

Ownership and management

Wentworth Park Crown reserve is owned by the State of New South Wales. The City of Sydney is the Crown land manager responsible for the management of the Crown reserve. Refer to Section 2, pages 14-15 for further property details.

Relevant legislation

Crown Land Management Act 2016

Crown land is governed by the Crown Land Management Act 2016 (“CLM Act”). Historically, reserve trust managers were appointed as the custodians of Crown reserves. Upon the introduction of the CLM Act in 2018, the reserve trust regime was abolished. The management of Crown reserves is now delegated to Crown land managers, many of which are local councils.

The Objectives of the Crown Land Management Act 2016 under section 1.3 are identified as:

- Provide for the ownership, use and management of the Crown land of NSW
- Provide clarity concerning the law applicable to Crown land
- Require environmental, social, cultural heritage and economic considerations to be considered in decision-making about Crown land
- Provide for the consistent, efficient, fair and transparent management of Crown land for the benefit of the people of NSW
- Facilitate the use of Crown land by the Aboriginal people of NSW because of the spiritual, social, cultural and economic importance of land to Aboriginal people and, where appropriate, to enable the co-management of dedicated or reserved Crown land
- Provide for the management of Crown land having regard to the principles of Crown land management.

State Environmental Planning Policy – Infrastructure 2007

The State Environmental Planning Policy (Infrastructure) 2007 (“ISEPP”) aims to facilitate the effective delivery of infrastructure across NSW. The Infrastructure SEPP assists local government and the communities they support by simplifying the process for providing essential infrastructure.

The ISEPP has specific planning provisions and development controls for 25 types of infrastructure works or facilities including roads, emergency services, electricity delivery, parks and other public reserves and telecommunications networks.

The ISEPP outlines the planning rules for such works and facilities, including:

- Where such development can be undertaken
- What type of infrastructure development can be approved by a public authority under Part 5 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (“EP&A Act”) following an environmental assessment (known as ‘development without consent’)
- What type of development can be approved by the relevant local council, Minister for Planning or Department of Planning under Part 4 of the EP&A Act (known as ‘development with consent’)
- What type of development is exempt or complying development.

Of relevance to Wentworth Park is Clause 65 that specifies that development for any purpose may be carried out without consent if the development is for the purposes of implementing an adopted Plan of Management. The clause also lists a range of ancillary developments permitted without consent.

Clause 66 provides for a range of exempt developments within a public reserve such as the construction, maintenance and repair of walking tracks, boardwalks, stairways, gates, seats shelters and shade structures.

Applicable planning controls for the reserve

Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979

Local Environmental Plans are statutory planning tools that set controls over development in the area to which they apply and are one of the main instruments for implementing the EP&A Act. They contain zoning controls as well as controls for heritage conservation areas and protected areas, amongst other matters.

Wentworth Park is zoned RE1 – Public Recreation.

1 Objectives of zone

- To enable land to be used for public open space or recreational purposes.
- To provide a range of recreational settings and activities and compatible land uses.
- To protect and enhance the natural environment for recreational purposes.
- To provide links between open space areas.
- To retain and promote access by members of the public to areas in the public domain including recreation facilities and waterways and other natural features.

Native Title

On Crown land, Native Title rights and interests must be considered unless Native Title has been extinguished, surrendered, or determined by a court to no longer exist.

Dealings in land or water that affect (impair or extinguish) Native Title are referred to as 'Future Acts' and these acts must be done in compliance with the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) ("NT ACT"). The NT Act specifies procedures that must be followed before future acts can be done legally.

Some examples of acts which may affect Native Title on Crown land managed by the City of Sydney include:

- The construction of new buildings and other facilities such as toilet blocks, walking tracks, tennis courts, grandstands and barbecues
- The construction of extensions to existing buildings
- The construction of new roads
- Installation of infrastructure such as powerlines, sewerage pipes, etc.
- The creation of an easement
- The issue of a lease or licence
- The undertaking of major earthworks.

On Crown land, a future act undertaken by the City of Sydney which is not covered by one of the Future Act subdivisions of the NT Act will be invalid.

Section 8.7 of the Crown Land Management Act 2016 requires that written Native Title Manager advice is required before a council Crown land manager does any of the following:

- a. Grants leases, licences, permits, forestry rights, easements or rights of way over the land
- b. Mortgages the land or allows it to be mortgaged
- c. Imposes, requires or agrees to covenants, conditions or other restrictions on use (or removes or releases, or agrees to remove or release, covenants, conditions, or other restrictions on use) in connection with dealings involving the land

- d. Approves (or submits for approval) a plan of management for the land that authorises or permits any of the kinds of dealings referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c). Accordingly, Native Title Manager advice must be obtained prior to the approval (or submittal for approval) of a PoM that allows a dealing in (a)–(c) and the execution of any lease, licence, permit, etc. that may be authorised under that plan.

The City of Sydney's Native Title Manager has been and will continue to be consulted in all relevant aspects of Native Title pertaining to the land that is covered by this Plan of Management.

Heritage management

The planning and management of Wentworth Park must recognise and adhere to the requirements applicable to Local and State heritage listings.

4. Strategic context

Past planning and management

Planning and management directions have been established for Wentworth Park through past master planning and plans of management. This Plan of Management references the City of Sydney Open Space, Sports and Recreation Needs Study 2016 (“OSSRNS”) as the current planning direction for Wentworth Park and supersedes the Draft Plan of Management 1991.

Key strategic directions

The following guiding strategic directions are summarised for the planning and management of Wentworth Park.

Strategic Directions - OSSRNS 2016

The City of Sydney has long advocated the removal of greyhound racing from Wentworth Park and creation of a new harbour side park for residents, providing much needed passive and active recreation facilities.

Increased population density arising from Bays Precinct development makes it imperative that all existing available open space is used for optimal benefit for the community.

To enable this project State Government must secure the agreement of the greyhound clubs to relocate appropriate to a location in western or greater Sydney.

Removal of greyhound racing from Wentworth Park will allow reunification of the grounds and establishment of new sporting fields and passive recreation areas.

Future Considerations:

- Transform the park from a fragmented space dominated by greyhound racing stadium to a major new city and district park with a combination of active and passive recreation facilities.
- Upon vacation of greyhound racing, prepare a master plan for the whole site that includes conservation plans for heritage items on site including entry tower, stewards office and cold store with a view of adaptation to new beneficial uses.

- Reinforce St Johns Road as a green street link from Wentworth Park to Forest Lodge / Camperdown.
- Include environmental performance initiatives to contribute to the City of Sydney’s environmental targets.

Past planning directions:

The strategies developed for the park within the Wentworth Park Draft Plan of Management 1991 and Master Plan are still relevant and have been included to assist with the future planning of the park.

Desired Outcomes

Drainage and Soils: To improve drainage and soil conditions so as to allow full recreational use of the park in all but the most adverse weather conditions and to promote healthy plant growth.

Landscape Character: An identifiable character and design for the whole park with a clearly defined boundary, using components of the formal nineteenth century parkland within the constraints imposed by the more recent developments within the park.

Heritage and archaeology: To identify, maintain and manage items of heritage significance and to provide interpretative material so as to inform the public of the park’s significant history.

Recreational Use: To provide a variety of high quality recreational experiences, relevant to community needs and to avoid one-off decisions, over time, diluting the overall recreational significance of the park.

Traffic and noise: To develop safe access to the park and to provide areas within the park where the influence of traffic noise is reduced, so as enhance the experience of being removed from the noise and traffic of the inner-city.

Footpaths and access: To improve access to the park from the residential area of Glebe and Ultimo through local area traffic management.

Pedestrian and dedicated cycleways provide safe, all-weather pedestrian and cyclist access both to and within the park.

Develop safe and convenient access to Blackwattle Bay.

Lighting and safety: To increase the sense of security in the park at night by providing appropriate lighting which would also serve to highlight heritage items within the park.

Playgrounds: To provide safe yet exciting playground equipment that is relevant to the needs of the young people of the area.

Relationship with adjoining land users: To encourage adjacent developments and administrative relationships that complement the park, particularly in relation to access to the foreshore and to adjoining suburbs.

Draft Plan of Management 1991 principles:

The Wentworth Park Draft Plan of Management 1991 established the following guiding principles:

- Reinforce the heritage of the park
- Develop consistency of design style and detailing throughout the park
- Provide physical and visual links between all parts of the park and to surrounding areas
- Develop a strong defining edge
- Make the park more attractive and useable
- Ensure that no further public alienation of the park occurs.

These remain appropriate to the ongoing management of the park and emphasise the need to pursue the reclamation of the land comprising of the Greyhound Complex.

Demographic context

As part of the PoM process Cred Consulting reviewed the demographic and recreational context of the subject reserve which provides useful background to ongoing planning and management.

Key observations are summarised following:

More residents

The City of Sydney's increasing resident population and density will result in more use and capacity pressures on all levels of the open space network, particularly the larger parks that offer opportunities for active sport.

The majority of population growth will be accommodated in various urban renewal areas. This trend will continue over the next 10-15 years.

The planning of urban renewal areas will provide opportunities to increase the open space and recreation facility network provision and provide linkages to the established open space network.

More workers and visitors

In the city centre and other concentrations of workforce population and visitors the quality of public spaces to allow people to lunch sit and socialise as well as provision of larger spaces for lunch time sport and exercise needs to be an important consideration.

Increasing density

Open space provision will be critical to the liveability of higher density urban areas by supporting community well-being, physical activity, social interaction, and a sense of space within an otherwise intensive built environment.

More lone persons

The acceptance for high density housing in order to live close to the city centre and lone person households places importance on the distribution of the open space network to ensure people have convenient access to a park that serves as a "backyard" and facilitates social interaction and recreation opportunities. Open space planning and management is an important component of the liveability and quality of high density developments.

More young and old people

The age structure profiles increasing in the city of families with young children, young adults, and older people are expected to be heavy users of open space network.

In 2041, 47% of the City of Sydney's residents will be between 18 and 34 years of age. This age group has high participation rates in active sports and recreation, and many reside in new high density urban renewal areas which suggests higher density communities could potential be very active communities and will require opportunities for physical activity and social interaction.

The open space network needs to be flexible and provide a diverse offer of recreational, social, cultural and creative activities and facilities to cater for various age, cultural and income groups.

Total population

City of Sydney is forecast to grow by 949,824 people or 37% in 2041. The highest growth will be in Green Square-City South, CBD-Harbour, Chinatown-CBD South and Redfern Street villages respectively.

Service age structure

Decrease in the proportion of 25 to 49 year old people

While the working age population will remain the largest demographic group to 2041, the proportion of this age group decreases across the Local Government Area “(LGA)”. The villages with the most significant change in this age group proportion will be King Street (-5%), Glebe Point Road (-4%), Harris Street (-4%), Macleay Street-Woolloomooloo (-4%) and Oxford Street (-4%).

Increase in the proportion of 60 to 84 year old people

The proportion of people aged between 60 and 84 years is forecast to increase by 2% in 2041. While the increase in proportion of 60 to 69 year old people is consistent across all villages within the LGA, the increase in proportion of 70 to 84 year old people varies. The villages with the highest increase in proportion of 70 to 84 year old people will be Glebe Point Road (+4%), Crown – Baptist Streets (+3%), Harris Street (+3%), Macleay Street-Woolloomooloo (+3%) and Oxford Street (+3%).

Households

The total number of dwellings in the LGA is forecast to increase by 35%. The villages that will see the highest increase in number of households are CBD-Harbour, Green Square – City South and Redfern Street. Villages including CBD-Harbour and Redfern Street with a high number of Crown lands will cater to an increasing number of households by 2041.

Household type

The overall LGA is forecast to see a high increase in households with one parent families and group households. However, there are variations in forecast household type across the villages including those within this PoM study area:

- Chinatown – CBD South, Harris street and Crown – Baptist Streets will see a high increase in one parent families
- Glebe point road will have an increase in lone person households and a decrease in group households.

Overnight and daily visitors

The City of Sydney is Sydney’s premier metropolitan core that contains regional and village level services including retail to health, education to entertainment. The Sydney CBD and surrounds are also attractive places for tourists to visit, explore and stay overnight.

Given the diversity of offerings across the LGA, visitors are distributed to places such as Oxford Street, Kings Cross/Darlinghurst, Newtown, the Rocks, Chinatown and Central Station. Accommodation is provided throughout the LGA via short term rental accommodation as well as through traditional hotel and hostel services. The City of Sydney experiences 680,000 daily and overnight visitors for range of purposes and services including:

- Shopping
- Health and education
- Recreation and entertainment
- Accommodation
- Personal business
- Work related business.

It is forecast that this will grow to approximately 860,000 by 2036. (Source: Infrastructure Baseline Assessment, City of Sydney, 2019.)

Social and cultural considerations
(as per 2016 census data)

Cultural diversity

47.7% of City of Sydney population are born overseas with top countries of birth being China, United Kingdom and Thailand. Village areas with highest born overseas rates include Chinatown and CBD South (76%), Harris Street (57.1%) and Green Square and City South (54.7%).

36.1% of City of Sydney population speak a language other than English with top languages being Mandarin, Thai and Cantonese. Village areas with highest percentage of other language speakers include Chinatown and CBD South (71%), Harris Street (47.1%) and Green Square and City South (45.9%).

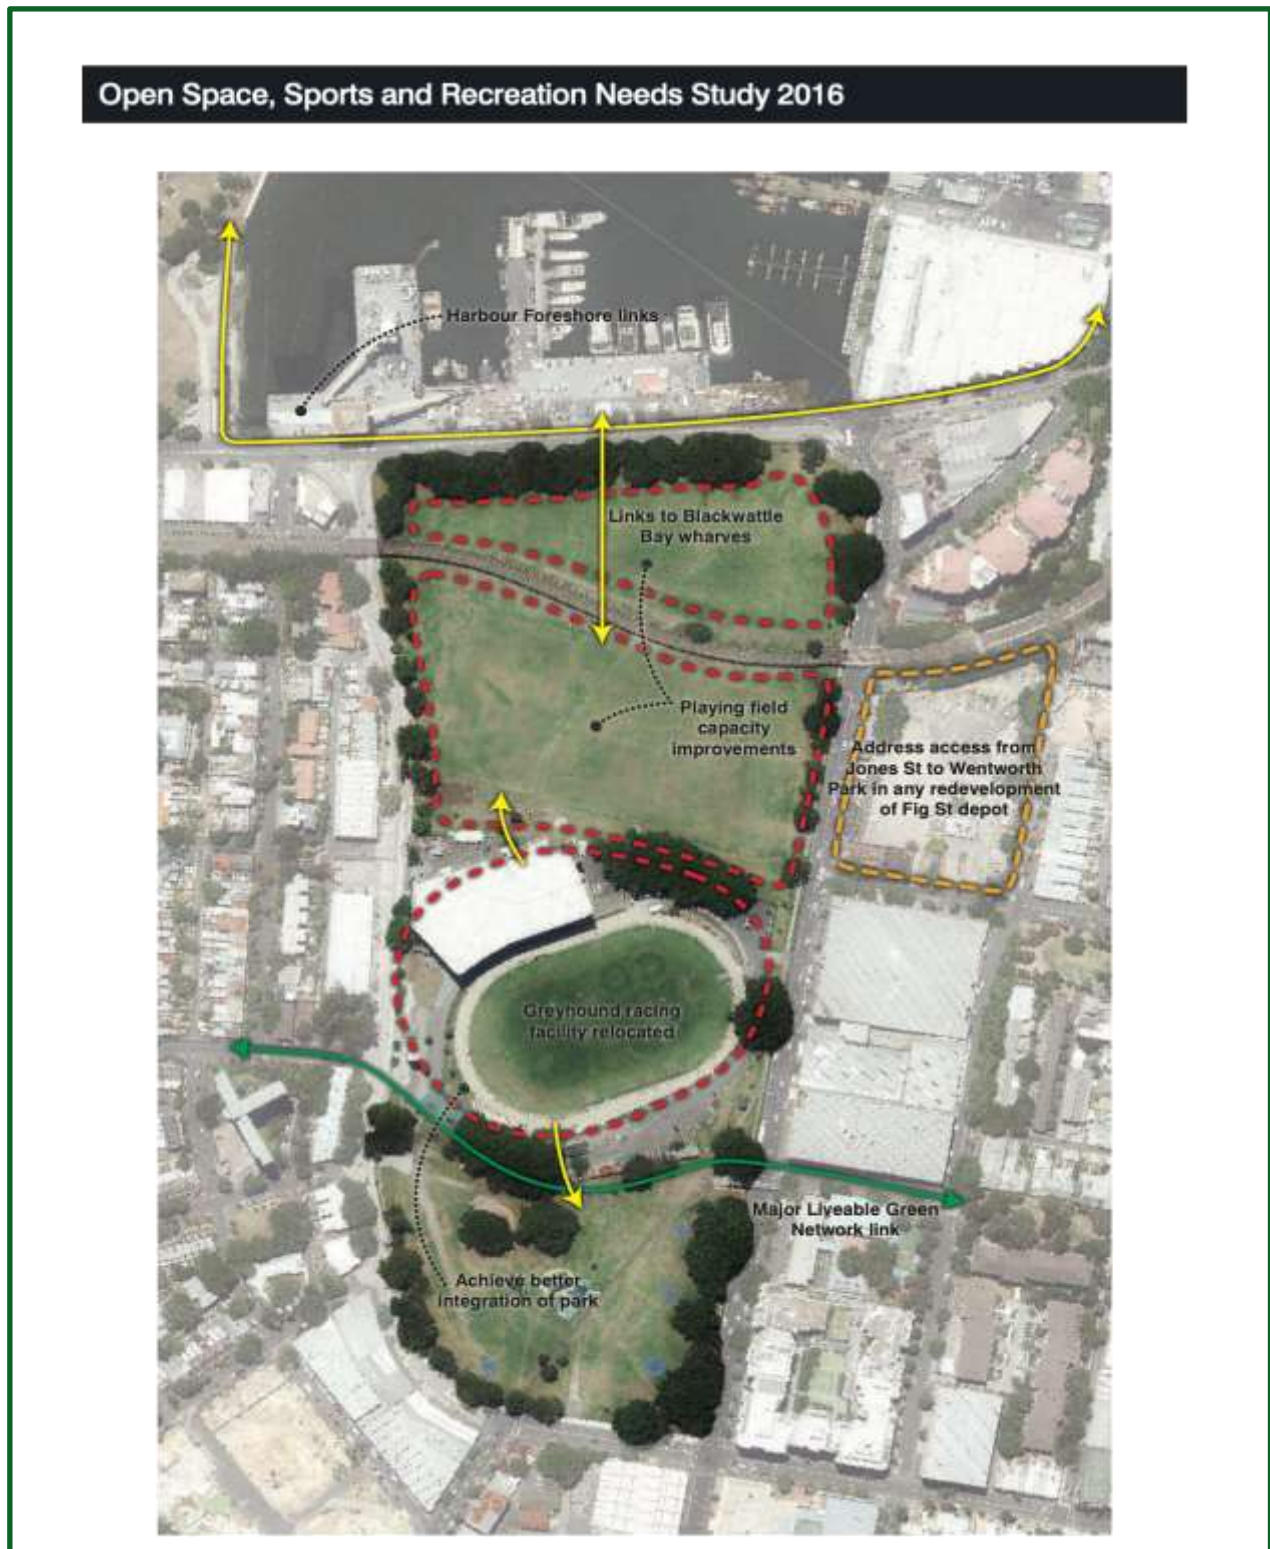

Low-income households

18.2% of households in City of Sydney LGA are characterised as low-income households. Village areas with highest percentage of low-income households include Redfern Street (29.5%), Chinatown and CBD South (17.5%) and King Street (15.6%).

Socio-Economic Indexes for Areas
(SEIFA Index)

City of Sydney has a SEIFA index 1,027. Village areas with lowest SEIFA scores being Chinatown and CBD South (940.2) and Redfern Street (970.2)

City of Sydney Policy and Strategy framework

The City of Sydney has developed an extensive range of policies which provide guidance to Council decision-making. A number of these influence planning and management decision-making for open space and must be referred to in conjunction with this Plan of Management.

The City of Sydney has also developed a range of strategies focused on specific issues. While strategies are high-level guideline documents and usually carry less influence than policies, they can provide important references for the planning and management of open space.

Generally, policy guidance for the management of specific issues shall take precedence where no guidance is provided in the plan. However, all decision-making, and ongoing management must also have regard to the conservation of the specific park values and application of the core objectives of the applicable community land category/categories.

A summary of the key policies and strategies is provided in the Appendices.

Future Policy and Strategy guidance

In addition, it is intended that future policy and strategy development should also inform specific aspects of reserve planning and management as applicable.

5. Community guiding principles

The City acknowledges the Gadigal of the Eora Nation as the Traditional Custodians of our local area, and we acknowledge their continued connection to Country. We pay respect to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders past, present and emerging.

Community and place

These are the principles for our plans of management for Crown and community land. They were developed by listening to our communities – Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, community gardeners, bushcare contributors, local residents, school children, city workers and visitors. And they reflect their values.

These principles are guided by the world view of Aboriginal people. They reframe our systemic relationship with the land. Since invasion, the relationship between people and land has been disrupted with little respect for the land, animals, waterways, and First Peoples. We've seen the extinction of plants and animals and damage to waterways and land. Aboriginal lives have been lost in trying to protect country. By challenging our approach in this way, we hope to cause no further harm and begin to heal.

The City of Sydney has an important role as caretaker of these places. We will consciously consider these principles in the decisions we make for the Crown and community land we are responsible for. This includes how we maintain, change, and manage this land.

Aboriginal world view of Country – First Nations workshop participant

Country is our identity; spiritually, culturally, physically, and socially. We refer to Country as part of the family. We speak to Country; we sing to Country; and we dance for Country.

Increasingly we worry for Country and seek greater protection measures to carry out our cultural obligations to the land and waterways. These are our fundamental rights and cultural responsibilities in protecting country as First Nations People.

We are on Gadigal Country

These principles are founded in the understanding of Country in the worldview of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. This understanding of Country includes the landscape – land, water and sky, the plants and animals, and the relationship between these. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people responsibility for care of Country and the continuation of these relationships. Country has existed in this place for thousands of generations. Country precedes the colonial boundaries and definitions of 'Crown land'. We acknowledge the responsibility that First Nations People have in the carriage of their living cultures including access to land for practising culture. Crown and community land should bring social, spiritual, and economic benefit to First Nations People.

We commit to truth-telling and decolonisation

Gadigal Country was never ceded. In managing the Crown and Community land in Gadigal Country, we recognise the significance of this land as the site of invasion.

We work towards telling the history of these places with honesty and acknowledge the negative impacts caused to Country and to the people.

We endeavour to cause no further harm to Aboriginal people and the relationship they hold to the land.

We challenge ourselves to decolonise our approach to managing Crown and community land. This is evident in the decisions we make as we manage these places.

We value how important these places are to people's wellbeing

Crown and community land are a place of refuge and respite in an intensely urban environment. These places have cultural and community significance to many people. They are places of shared identity and pride, of community connection and celebration, and of protest and social transformation. They must be welcoming to all people and will provide equity of access to all to enjoy. We strengthen the connections between and within these places.

We are guided by Country and strive to heal and care for it

We learn about how this Country has been cared for thousands of generations. We respect the natural landforms, waterways, and endemic species. We work to heal places that have suffered degradation. We support these places to play their role in the health of the whole environment.

We protect these places for future generations

We accept our role as caretakers of these places. These places must benefit the community now and in the future. As we face a changing climate and growing population, we make decisions that prepare these places and ensure their continued health into the future.

Reflecting Crown reserve purpose

Under the Local Government Act 1993 (“LG Act”), all community land is required to be categorised. Where the land is owned by Crown Lands, one or more categories may be assigned that should align with the public purpose for which the land was dedicated or reserved.

The public purposes for Wentworth Park Crown reserve are Public Recreation and Educational Purposes.

Current / existing use

In accordance with Crown Lands requirements the City of Sydney has established initial categorisations for Wentworth Park. The application of these categories is consistent with the way in which Wentworth Park is currently used and has been endorsed by Crown Lands.

Any change to the initial categorisation to support a future use should be altered via an amendment to the Plan of Management and in accordance with requirements under the LG Act.

Characteristics of the land

The physical characteristics of the land must be considered in applying community land categorisations. Land that possesses a significant geological feature, geomorphological feature, landform, representative system or other natural feature should be considered for categorisation as one of the Natural Area categories. In such a case the plan should describe the related characteristics of the land.

For Wentworth Park there are no site characteristics that would justify Natural Area categorisation.

Likewise, where land is of Aboriginal or historical heritage significance Council should consider whether Area of Cultural Significance is applicable. This should consider whether there are heritage listings or controls on the land that address heritage conservation. Where such protections are not afforded and a site warrants heritage significance, the Area of Cultural Significance category may be applicable.

For Wentworth Park, Section 2 describes the heritage characteristics of the land, and the applicable listings and controls. These will be considered in all management decisions related to the land. The additional layer of Area of Cultural Significance categorisation is not deemed to be required.

Proposed community land categorisations

Table 4 outlines the guidelines for categorisation as listed in the Local Government (General) Regulation 2021, Part 4 - categorisation, use and management of community land for the applicable categories to Wentworth Park. Under the guidelines for each category, its interpretation and application to Wentworth Park is explained.

In addition, the core objectives and purpose (as outlined in the Local Government (General) Regulation 2021), are also listed.

Wentworth Park
Plan of Management

Guidelines for categorisation and application to Wentworth Park

Core objectives for management

The General Community Use categorisation applies to the footprint of the Fort Street Public School facilities. The categorisation enables continued occupation of the facilities for educational purposes until such time as they are vacated.

7. Review of the plan

Lifespan of the plan

If the Plan of Management (“PoM”) is to remain relevant in the future it is essential that its implementation is reviewed on a regular basis to ensure any relevant changes are incorporated.

Changes that may need to be addressed include:

- New legislation
- Changes in community values
- Inclusion of additional land
- Project priorities
- Funding resources
- New opportunities for future upgrades.

Given that community expectations and requirements change over time, this plan also needs to have some flexibility to adapt to any changes of circumstance.

Other triggers for review / update

Should a major development or works be proposed that is not represented in the authorised uses and developments listings, the PoM will require amending.

Should changes in categorisation be proposed, the PoM will require amendment, re-exhibition and the need to undertake a public hearing prior to adoption.

Process for review

It is recommended that the plan be reviewed in the following sequences and time spans:

Annually: monitor progress of PoM

Every five years: undertake a review of all values based on revised analysis, issues and amended planning legislation review outcomes against survey information, photographic record and register of correspondence review and amend the PoM, where required

Every ten years: review of the PoM

Part B

Management of community land categories

8. General requirements

This section sets out the specific requirements for the individual management areas located within Wentworth Park and is applicable to all community land categories, as outlined in Section 6 of this Plan of Management (“PoM”).

Management Framework

A Management Framework is provided in Section 9 of this PoM. It provides a decision-making framework for the future management of Wentworth Park and addresses the requirements of section 36 of the Local Government Act 1993 (“LG Act”).

Management targets

The framework sets out management targets that define a series of “desired outcomes” for the management of Wentworth Park. The outcomes seek to conserve and enhance the values of Wentworth Park and address management challenges and opportunities identified by the community and City of Sydney.

Means of implementation

In response to the identified management targets, the means of implementation define recommended strategies to be implemented over the life of this PoM.

Assessment indicators and measurement

A means of assessing the achievement of the identified management targets is provided for ongoing monitoring and evaluation.

Permitted development and use

Section 36 of the LG Act states that a PoM must expressly authorise any proposed uses and development activities on community land.

The City of Sydney encourages a wide range of uses on community land and intends to facilitate uses which increase the activation of the land, where appropriate. The use of community land is often supported by appropriate ancillary development such as playground equipment, amenity blocks or food kiosks.

The general types of uses which may occur on community land categorised as Park, Sportsground and General Community Use and the forms of development generally associated with those uses, are set out in Sections 10-12 within this PoM.

Any proposal for the development and use of buildings, structures and spaces at Wentworth Park will be considered on merit and benefits to the community and balanced against physical constraints, the amenity of adjoining residents and land uses.

Restrictions on management of Crown land

The City of Sydney is the Crown land manager of the Crown reserve described within this PoM in accordance with the legislation and conditions imposed by the minister administering the Crown Land Management Act 2016. The use and development of the land described in this PoM must:

- Be consistent with the purpose for which the land was dedicated or reserved
- Consider native title rights and interests and be consistent with the provisions of the Commonwealth Native Title Act 1993
- Consider the inchoate interests of Aboriginal people where an undetermined Aboriginal Land Claim exists
- Consider and not be in conflict with any interests and rights granted under the Crown Land Management Act 2016
- Consider any interests held on title.

Legislative requirements

The Sydney Local Environmental Plan 2012 (“LEP”) specifies the range of uses and activities that may be permitted on the land, in accordance with the relevant zoning and associated objectives. Several uses are also set out in the Local Government (General) Regulation 2021 (“Regulation”).

Guidelines and core objectives of the community land category

Under the LG Act, uses and the development of community land must be consistent with the guidelines for categorisation, the core objectives of each category, and any other additional objectives that Council proposes to place on the community land categories.

Consistency with Council adopted policies and strategies

Relevant Council policies and strategies as at the date of adoption of this PoM are identified in the Appendices and have been used to guide the outcomes of this PoM.

Council’s adopted policies and strategies will continue to develop after the preparation of this PoM. Management of Council assets, and their development will consider existing policies and strategic frameworks at the relevant time.

Indigenous Cultural and Intellectual Protocols

Activities that involve the representation or depiction of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples heritage or living culture must adhere to Indigenous Cultural and Intellectual Protocols.

Community Engagement

Community engagement is guided by the City of Sydney’s Community Engagement Strategy.

To ensure that that matters impacting Crown and community land continue to reflect community values, priorities and interests, the City of Sydney will undertake engagement activities that are:

- Clear in scope and purpose
- Promote dialogue and open up a genuine discussion
- Influence outcomes and decisions
- Are inclusive and accessible

In addition, engagement with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities must be guided by the City’s Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Protocols and respect cultural practices and Indigenous cultural and intellectual property rights.

In line with this Plan of Management, the Native Title Act 1993 and Crown Land Management Act 2016, the City of Sydney will always notify Traditional Custodians and Cultural Knowledge Holders on decisions about Crown land that may impact Native Title.

Buildings and structures

Express authorisation

This PoM expressly authorises the development of new buildings, structures and civil infrastructure, and the redevelopment / refurbishment of buildings, structures and civil infrastructure which support the desired use of Wentworth Park.

Such buildings, structures and civil infrastructure will not materially harm the use of the land for any of the purposes in which it was dedicated or reserved and will be consistent with the:

- Core objectives of the categories that apply to the land
- Crown reserve purpose
- LEP and any other applicable Environmental Planning Instruments
- Applicable master plans, asset management plans and any subsequent detailed design plans.

Consistent with the objectives of this PoM, development activities must also include sustainable initiatives and measures, where feasible.

Native Title and Public Works

Where it is proposed to construct or establish a public work on reserved or dedicated Crown land, where Native Title is not extinguished, prior to approval, the City of Sydney will ensure that Native Title Manager advice is sought to ensure that the works can be validated under the Native Title Act 1993 and the appropriate native title holders, claimants or NTSCorp will be provided the appropriate procedural rights as required under the Native Title Act 1993.

Assessment and approval of permissible uses and development activities

The authorisation in a PoM gives 'in principle' support for uses and development activities consistent with the objectives of the land categorisation to proceed to development assessment under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 ("EP&A Act").

This PoM does not in itself imply or grant consent for uses or development activities. Any proposed uses and development activities which are consistent with this PoM must still be referred for development consent and where required, be advertised widely for information and invitation to comment. Any subsequent application for development consent would be supported by and assessed against this PoM.

Prohibited activities

Activities and uses that are inconsistent with the Crown reserve purpose or core objectives associated with the applicable community land category are prohibited.

Certain activities at Wentworth Park may also be prohibited by the applicable land use zoning. The City of Sydney may prohibit certain activities from time to time. Prohibited uses will be communicated via City bookings, lease, and licence agreements, or otherwise communicated where prohibited activities may be temporary.

Managing impacts on adjoining land uses

Uses and activities permitted at Wentworth Park must consider the needs of and impacts on residents, workers and adjoining land uses in terms of accessibility, noise, lighting, traffic and parking.

Scale and intensity of use

The scale and intensity of development and activities on Crown and community land is to be generally compatible with the scale and anticipated use of the park, reserve and associated facility.

In particular, the scale and intensity of use will be consistent with the carrying capacity of the land, and any master plan or development consent relating to the land.

Organised sports use

This PoM specifically authorises activities at Wentworth Park which may attract high numbers of people including organised sport activities and training, school sport competitions, commercial activities and one-off community events and performances.

The allocation of Wentworth Park for organised sport and school sport will comply with the City of Sydney's seasonal allocations process. Applications for permissible activities will be assessed on a case-by-case basis by Outdoor Venue Management.

The scale and intensity of such activities will be managed by the City of Sydney's booking process and associated conditions of use.

Informal use

The intensity of use for informal recreational activities across Wentworth Park and settings (such as playgrounds, fitness stations and park seating) will be determined by the community use of the site but will be managed to avoid undue impacts on park fabric and environment.

Commercial uses

Commercial operations for cafes, markets and kiosks that support and encourage community use of the open space, and/or address a community need are to be assessed based on the proposed scale and intensity of use and are authorised subject to compatibility with the objectives identified within this PoM.

Funding

Funding is integral to implementing the management targets identified with this PoM and is defined under two categories:

- Capital works involving the construction and development of new facilities and structures
- Maintenance and management of the park.

The implementation of this PoM is achieved through its linkage with Council's management plan, operational budget, and capital works program.

Council currently funds management and maintenance costs through its annual budget allocation and uses capital funds and 7.11 contributions for capital and nonrecurrent works.

Funding arrangements for the parks need to address recurrent costs of management and maintenance, together with capital costs for new facilities or upgrading works. Funding for construction of new facilities is generally through the annual budgeting process, but special projects may be partly funded through New South Wales Government grant allocations, which may involve matching funding from Council.

Sources of funding include but are not limited to:

- 7.11 contributions – utilised for new landscaping and/or facilities complementary to the core management objectives
- Partnerships – there is an opportunity to develop further partnerships with residents and interested people in relation to park improvements and ongoing management, such as bush regeneration
- Park revenue – income from the parks is generated by lease and licence fees, and from applicants for approved functions and events
- Grants – several state and federal government grants are available to assist with capital works in the parks.

What are leases and licences

Leases and licences formalise the use of Crown and community land by groups such as sporting clubs, community groups and schools, or by commercial organisations and individuals providing facilities or services for public use. The occupation of Crown and community land not only applies to the surface of the land but also includes the airspace above and subsurface below.

A lease is normally issued where exclusive control of all or part of an area by a user is proposed. Licences allow multiple and non-exclusive use of an area. A licence may be required where intermittent or short-term use or control of all or part of the park, reserve or associated facilities are proposed. Several licences for different users can apply to the same area at the same time, provided there is no conflict of interest.

The City of Sydney's ability to lease or licence Crown reserves managed as community land such as Wentworth Park is authorised by section 3.22 of the CLM Act, which requires the preparation of a community land PoM, adopted by Council, to authorise an occupancy or use agreement.

What are short-term uses

Agreements for the use of Crown and community land may be granted for short-term activities such as access, filming and events. These casual arrangements allow for non-exclusive use of any associated land and/or facility that may range in duration from a few hours to 12 months. The short-term uses permissible within this PoM are detailed within Sections 10-12.

Other Estates

Easements across Crown and community land for the purpose of public utilities, providing pipes, conduits, or other connections under the surface of the ground, for the connection of premises adjoining the community land to a facility on the community land shall be authorised by this PoM, and shall be subject to the following criteria:

- There is no feasible alternative to connecting to a facility on the community land
- There is no significant impact on the land

Wentworth Park Plan of Management

- Where the proposal involves the creation of an easement and/or a restriction on the future development potential of the property, compensation is assessed.

In instances where there is an encroachment (existing or proposed) upon public land by a permanent structure, and the structure does not significantly interfere with the functioning of the Crown reserve, the City of Sydney may consider the creation of an easement. In all cases, the applicant is to be responsible for all costs incurred by City of Sydney in the creation of the easement.

Subject to the provisions of Section 47F of the LG Act, an estate in respect of this land category is expressly authorised by this PoM for the purpose of a “public road” where the provision of that road is consistent with the core objectives stated herein and where the road is necessary for the enjoyment of that land.

Authorisation of tenure

Tenure may be granted for exclusive and non-exclusive uses to any organisation for any compatible purpose, as determined by Council, on such terms as Council may provide.

Under section 46 of the LG Act, a lease or licence may only be granted for a maximum term of 21 years, including options. A lease or licence for a term exceeding 5 years may be granted only by tender unless it is granted to a non-profit organisation. All leases and licences must be publicly notified for a minimum period of 28 days.

Agreements for a short-term, casual purpose may be issued in accordance with section 46 of the LG Act where that purpose is prescribed by the Regulations.

To ensure that usage or occupation of the Crown reserve is appropriate for the proposed tenure, a council Crown land manager must always consider:

- Compatibility with the Crown reserve purpose and core objectives for the category of the land
- Compatibility with the applicable land zoning
- If development consent is required and has been obtained (and other consents under the EP&A Act and LG Act)

- Environmental and social impacts of the activities to be permitted by the proposed tenure
- Appropriate term (period of occupation)
- Capability of the Crown reserve to support the proposed tenure
- Current and future use of the land
- If the issue of the proposed tenure will materially harm the use of the land for any of the purposes for which it was dedicated or reserved.

In addition to the conditions provided within the authorisations, the granting of tenure must also:

- Have no negative impact on historical heritage sites or significant fabric
- Not alienate the park or reserve unreasonably
- Be ecologically sustainable
- Have a component of community benefit
- Demonstrate a clear nexus between the activity and the park or Crown reserve
- Not result in overuse of the area or conflict with community use of the area
- Ensure traffic, parking and essential or required vehicular access implications are considered
- Be in accordance with all Council policies and procedures governing the use of open space.

A use agreement (lease, licence, short-term use or other estate) on Crown land may impact Native Title rights and interests. A use agreement issued on Crown land must be issued in accordance with Future Act provisions of the Native Title Act 1993, and in accordance with Part 8 of the CLM Act unless Native Title is extinguished. For Crown land, which is not excluded land, this will require written advice from Council’s Native Title Manager that it complies with any applicable provisions of the Native Title legislation.

Where the land is subject to a claim under the Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983, the issue of any lease, licence or other estate will not prevent the land from being transferred in the event the claim is granted.

Express authorisation of Tenure under this Plan of Management

Sections 10-12 detail the specific authorisations and purposes for which tenure may be granted in accordance with the community land category for Wentworth Park. The purposes for which tenure may be granted are consistent with existing uses and will enable the social, intellectual, spiritual and physical enrichment of residents, workers, and visitors to the City of Sydney area.

The following outlines general authorisations applicable under this PoM and an indication of the criteria in which specific activities are to be assessed by the City of Sydney.

Access

Access for building-related activities including for construction or maintenance purposes

Access across community land shall be authorised under this PoM provided that (but not limited to):

- The access is of a temporary nature
- In circumstances where proposed works require access and it is associated with an adjoining property, proponents must clearly demonstrate that there are no alternative means of access available to avoid access through community land to undertake the required development works
- A performance bond as prescribed in Council's Schedule of Fees and Charges in respect of potential damage to City assets is lodged with the City of Sydney
- All necessary approvals have been obtained
- The City of Sydney is in receipt of proof of suitable insurances including public liability insurance.

Under the LEP, the temporary use of community land may be deemed as exempt development if the proposed activity can be authorised under the LG Act and is no more than 52 days in any 12-month period ("the prescribed period").

Temporary structures for building-related activities including for construction or maintenance purposes

The City of Sydney may authorise a short-term licence for the placement of temporary building-related structures provided that (but not limited to):

- The use of community land is within the prescribed period
- In circumstances where the proposed works are associated with an adjoining property, proponents must clearly demonstrate that there are no alternative means of placement available to avoid use of community land to undertake the required development or maintenance works including satisfying any safety requirements under the Work, Health and Safety Act 2011
- Building-related structures comply with the City of Sydney's technical requirements
- A performance bond as prescribed in Council's Schedule of Fees and Charges in respect of potential damage to City assets is lodged with the City of Sydney
- All necessary approvals have been obtained
- The City of Sydney is in receipt of proof of suitable insurances including public liability insurance.

Proponents can refer to the following City of Sydney documents as a technical guide for temporary structures until such time as they are revised and adopted:

- Guidelines for Hoardings and Scaffolding 2017
- Draft Code of Practice for Hoisting and Construction Activities in Public Places.

If the City of Sydney is unable to approve short-term licence for these activities, applicants should consider an application under the provisions of the Access to Neighbouring Lands Act 2000.

Temporary structures

Land use planning controls

Temporary structures related to events

The use of community land for the placement of temporary event structures shall be authorised under this PoM provided (but not limited to):

Temporary events

Temporary events and activities are to be assessed and approved in accordance with the City of Sydney's temporary event approvals process and in line with existing applicable guidelines, policies and legislative requirements, both locally and at a State Government level.

The following criteria is not an exhaustive list but provides guidance on how temporary events and activities are assessed:

- Location including permissible use and compatibility with the relevant land
- Scale and intensity
- Duration and date sensitivity
- Proposed operational times
- Required infrastructure and proposed production design
- Access and logistics requirements
- Environmental impacts
- Proposed signage and/or advertising
- Addressing safety and security requirements.

Venues for hire

The City of Sydney offers a diverse range of indoor and outdoor venues for hire on a short-term or hourly basis that service the community enabling cultural, recreational and social outcomes.

Applications to use venues for hire are to be assessed and approved in accordance with City of Sydney's venue for hire approval process and in line with existing applicable guidelines, policies and legislative requirements.

All applicable fees are outlined in Council's adopted schedule of fees and charges.

Personal trainers

The City of Sydney encourages all members of its community to use parks and open space responsibly in meeting their health, wellbeing and fitness needs.

The City of Sydney chooses not to charge for the use of its parks and open spaces for outdoor fitness training as it does not wish to create a barrier to participating in physical exercise.

Personal fitness trainers including commercial, not-for-profit and community groups, wishing to train outdoors in Council's local government area are expected to comply with the Outdoor Fitness Training Voluntary Code of Conduct and its criteria for use.

Fitness training groups and activities that are exempt from this Code are:

- Walking groups
- Activities of schools under the supervision of a teacher
- Hirers that have a current booking with the City of Sydney to use a sports field, oval or court and comply with the City's Terms and Conditions of Use.

City of Sydney Policy framework

The City of Sydney has developed an extensive range of policies which provide guidance to decision-making. A number of these influence planning and management decision making for open space.

In some cases, these documents should always guide reserve planning and management having regard for the reserve purpose and core objectives of the community land category.

A summary of the key policies and their relationship to open space planning and management are as follows:

Purpose	Key principles	Implications for the plan of management
A City for All- youth action plan 2017-2027
Articulates the outcomes that the City wants to achieve for young people, as well as a vision for ensuring that Sydney continues and strengthens its status as a youth-friendly city. This plan applies the framework of social sustainability, which puts people at the heart of cities and recognises that personal wellbeing impacts on, and is impacted by, the collective wellbeing of the community.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Inclusive: young people have opportunities to succeed – Connected: young people feel connected and welcomed in their community – Liveable: young people live safe and healthy lives – Engaged: young people have a voice and can influence change 	Planning and management of open space must recognise youth as a key existing and potential user of open space facilitating opportunities for youth gather and interact and to undertake activities relevant to a diverse demographic.
Asset Management Policy 2016
To ensure that the City has information knowledge and understanding about the long-term and the cumulative consequences of being the custodian of public infrastructure. This is achieved by ensuring that the systems and processes are in place to enable people to determine the most effective and efficient options for delivering infrastructure related services while controlling exposure to risk and loss	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Take a lifecycle approach and apply a whole of life 2. Sustainable environmental performance 3. Best value – balance financial, environmental and social aspects to achieve best value 4. Long-term financial plans s 5. up to date infrastructure asset information to inform decisions 6. Sharing of asset data through digital platforms 7. Service levels – infrastructure asset service levels will be clearly defined 8. Manage risks associated with infrastructure assets; and 9. Continuous improvement of asset management practices 	Implementation of park improvements must use the City's established materials and treatments systems where applicable. Maintenance must be systematic and pro-active to optimise the safe useful lifespan of parks materials finishes and elements.

Climate Emergency Response 2020

The City of Sydney Council declared a climate emergency in June 2019, stating that climate change poses a serious risk to the people of Sydney.

The plan sets science-based targets that guided its work to reduce carbon emissions and make operations more resilient to climate-related hazards

Generally, the City seeks to take bold steps to reduce the city's environmental footprint and promoting transformative change in energy production, resource consumption, water use and climate adaptation in a way that is inclusive and supports a just transition across all communities.

Principles

- City actions are at a pace and magnitude commensurate with science-based climate observations and models to limit global heating to less than 1.5°C above pre industrial levels
- Actions are inclusive and acknowledge the First Peoples of Australia and the need for a just transition
- All City functions, activities and decision-making will address the climate emergency
- The City can influence others through its networks, functions and activities
- Staff across the organisation are champions of change
- Pro-active, timely communication and reporting are essential to influence and mobilise action
- An empowered community will take positive climate actions and be more resilient to future challenges

Goals

1. Address climate emergency priorities in our major strategies, projects and service delivery
2. Decarbonise the City's procurement of products, services and assets
3. Empower staff to act more sustainably and become more resilient
4. Streamline governance processes to support significant climate action
5. Use the planning system to support climate emergency priorities
6. Develop, prioritise and embed communications about the climate emergency
7. Support the community to take further action to address the climate emergency
8. Help the community access onsite and offsite renewables, including
9. 100 per cent GreenPower

Wentworth Park Plan of Management

Purpose	Key principles	Implications for the plan of management
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Demand – Parks are maintained for the enjoyment and use of the community. Management of parklands and the subsequent water use is influenced by the demands on use for parklands. – Increase in irrigated area – Timing of water restrictions – It should be noted that in 2006 when base line figures for 2030 were taken, Sydney Water had rigorous restrictions on water use in parklands. – Accuracy of information- – Specialised technology and consistency of information – Progression in water management has seen the development of a number of tools for managing water use, and subsequently managing data. Consistency in information is essential when measuring water efficiency. Key actions to be delivered: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Exceeding the Sustainable Sydney 2030 target of 10% recycled water usage in the City's Parks; – Change of water consumption measurement from an absolute target to a water efficiency measure of litres per square metre; – Installation of smart meters to improve the measurement of non-potable water use at 30 sites; – Set water budgets for the City's top 30 water using parks which allow for average, dry and wet years; – Construct storm water harvesting and treatments systems at Alexandria Park, Waterloo Oval and Pirrama Park (old part); – Connect Erskineville Oval to the Sydney Park water re-use project; – Upgrade irrigations systems at Alexandria Park, Waterloo Oval, Jubilee Oval and Pirrama Park (old part); and, – Implement an irrigation testing and efficiency program on the top 10 water using parks. 	park values and uses, and the core objectives of the applicable community land category
