20 submissions were received in total (including via email and through the Sydney Your Say survey) following the exhibition of the Draft Operational Plan 2023/24 and Draft Resourcing Strategy 2023. A summary of the issues raised in the submissions and responses, and the recommendation following their assessment by staff are included in the table below.

1	A submission was received during the exhibition period from a member of the public noting that a number of paths have been damaged by tree roots, creating fall and trip hazards.	The City continuously monitors the condition of our footways. We also routinely receive reports from our community about footway condition. We maintain our footways through proactive and reactive maintenance programs. These programs ensure our footways are maintained in keeping with standards agreed with our community.	That the submission is noted with no change to the documents as exhibited.
2	A submission was received during the exhibition period from a member of the public requesting the City give more priority to emptying bins and keeping streets clear of rubbish.	Industrial action between some members of the Transport Workers Union, employed by our waste collection contractor has been the cause of recent bin collection delays. The City of Sydney is not involved in the negotiations as Cleanaway is responsible for setting wages for its workers. Waste is a priority for the City of Sydney and we are focusing on ensuring collections run on schedule.	That the submission is noted with no change to the documents as exhibited.

The City provides a range of workshops and education programs to support a reduction in racism, including bystander training, and provides support to international students through our International Student Leader Ambassador (ISLA) program. The City is also a major partner in the Sydney Peace Foundation. The Sydney Peace Prize, awarded by the foundation every year brings the Sydney community together to talk about peace, justice and non-violence, and to honour one of the world's most inspiring peacemakers. The 2023 award will be announced in June.	That the submission is noted with no change to the documents as exhibited.

The City has long term housing targets, which are required by the NSW Government, to contribute to the number of homes needed for Sydney's growing population. The City is planning and delivering liveable and high density neighbourhoods in the Green Square area with well designed buildings supported by community infrastructure. The major cause of traffic congestion in the Green Square area is through traffic rather than drivers travelling to, from and within the area. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 2. The City undertakes proactive patrols, responds to complaints and registration follow up to ensure all aspects of Companion Animal compliance is met by owners. 3. The City is advocating to the NSW Government for improvements to public transport, with the priority an extension of Metro West to at least Zetland by 2030. The City regularly follows up with utility authorities to undertake the permanent trenching restoration works. The City continuously monitors the condition of our roads and footways. We also routinely receive reports from our community about asset condition. We maintain our roads and footway through proactive and reactive maintenance programs. These programs ensure our assets are maintained in keeping with standards agreed with our community. 2. The City of Sydney will continue to provide kerbside waste and recycling services to all residents and engagement programs to ensure waste is managed as a valuable resource and recycling is made easy for residents. Residents can now also drop-off tricky items for recycling at more of our recycling stations, at our Ultimo Recycling Pop-up or at our events. If these options aren't convenient, residents can book a tricky item collection through our doorstep recycling service. 	That the submission is noted with no change to the documents as exhibited.

The City will continue to ensure service levels are met with $20.8m allocated in 2023/24 for infrastructure maintenance in parks. The City undertakes annual intercept surveys of park visitors to gain feedback from the community regarding the standards of park maintenance. In 2022, the City ranked first amongst other participating agencies, (including Centennial Parklands, Sydney Olympic Park, Western Sydney Parklands, Parramatta Park and Callan Park), in satisfaction with maintenance levels.

9	A submission was received during the exhibition period from a member of the public requesting increased funding for affordable housing.	Councils are not funded by federal and state government to build affordable housing. Despite this, the City has supported community housing providers to build affordable housing in the local area by selling land below market cost for affordable housing and by allocating seed funding grants from the Affordable and Diverse Housing Fund. In addition, the City uses its planning controls to levy contributions on development for affordable housing. To date the City has collected $377.8 million in levies and provided $24.2 million in discount land and almost $10 million in grants. A further $10 million has been allocated to the City's Affordable and Diverse Housing Fund in the Long Term Financial Plan. As at 30 June 2022, the City has 1,427 built affordable housing units in the local area, 641 dwellings in the development pipeline and a further 701 that we expect to be built in the future. The City will continue to work with community housing providers and all levels of government to increase the provision of affordable housing.	That the submission is noted with no change to the documents as exhibited.

We are using this to advocate to the State Government for the changes to support the Tech Central Precinct and reallocate road space following the opening of WestConnex. We note that Broadway and Parramatta Rd are state roads. Telegraph poles are owned by Ausgrid and awnings and building facades are owned by the relevant landowners. 4. 18	A submission was received during the exhibition period from a member of the public requesting: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. changes in hiring arrangements for Perry Park; and 2. provision of outdoor spaces to hire for skating events. 	1. The centre does not have physical space available to support the storage of any hirer's equipment. In some circumstances we need to cancel bookings to accommodate special events in the local community. Notification is always provided in accordance with the hire agreement. Currently, we are not considering the opening of the Centre on public holidays. This group secured regular court space in 2022 and their regular booking has since been increased from 1 hour per week to 7 hours per week. The group is also welcome to make casual bookings up to 6 weeks in advance, which is the current policy for all casual hirer groups. 2.
