Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander statement

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities in the City of Sydney were extensively consulted more than a decade ago to inform Sustainable Sydney 2030 and this consultation continues today.

The First Peoples Dialogue Forum was an integral part of the community engagement process to ensure that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander voices were influential in developing Sustainable Sydney 2030 - 2050 Continuing the Vision. The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Advisory Panel was also briefed and invited to participate in workshops and forums.

The City of Sydney is committed to listening to, working with and elevating the voices of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in the city. We acknowledge the harmful impact of colonisation and government policies is still impacting on the city's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. It has led to intergenerational trauma and disadvantage in housing, education, health and wellbeing.

By addressing housing affordability, cost of living and gentrification, we will work to prevent further displacement of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. The City of Sydney understands that these past injustices affect us all as a nation and must be addressed in consultation with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

We recognise that the British occupation of the shores of Warrane, Sydney Harbour which began in 1788 had far-reaching and devastating impacts on the Eora nation. Longstanding ways of life were disrupted by invasion and the Aboriginal peoples' Country, lands and waterways appropriated.

Today Sydney is of prime importance as an ongoing centre for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, cultures, traditions and histories.

Despite the destructive impact of this invasion, Aboriginal cultures have endured and are now globally recognised as one of the world's oldest living cultures. Aboriginal people have shown and continue to show, enormous resilience coupled with generosity of spirit towards other peoples with whom they now share their land.

The City of Sydney strives to reflect the needs and aspirations of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and supports their quest for self-determination. By understanding the harsh truth of our shared past, we are laying the groundwork for a future that embraces all Australians, a future based on genuine engagement, mutual respect and shared responsibility for our land.

The ongoing custodianship of the Gadigal of the Eora Nation is an essential part of this future, as is Sydney's continuing place as central to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and communities.

We are working to embed principles that acknowledge the continuing cultural connection to, and care for Country by Aboriginal peoples. The principles aim to provide a new way to think about our responsibilities to the land, to heal and nurture it for future generations.

There are many sites across our local area with historical and cultural significance for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities. We have documented many of these in Barani / Barrabugu (Yesterday/ tomorrow), a free guide to Sydney’s Aboriginal histories.

The City of Sydney works with and has achieved much with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Advisory Panel since 2008. These gains are consistent with the principles of cooperation signed between us and the Metropolitan Local Aboriginal Land Council in 2006. Here are some milestones:

- 2011 As part of the Eora journey project we committed to fund and install 7 artworks by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander artists in public areas. It is part of our commitment to celebrate the living cultures of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.
- 2015 We adopted an inaugural Innovate reconciliation action plan in partnership with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as part of our deep commitment to reconciliation.
- 2016 We adopted the 10-year Eora journey economic development plan.
- 2020 A stretch reconciliation action plan built on our success and extended our actions. It includes targets to increase employment of Aboriginal peoples, spending with businesses, cultural learning activities for all employees and major public works such as the harbour walk Yananuralla and bara, an artwork and monument to the Eora people.

Our actions and commitments will help to ensure the political, economic, social and cultural rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are embedded in subsequent economic, social, environmental and cultural change.

Message from the Lord Mayor

Our focus this year encouraged reconnection following the lifting of all Covid-19 restrictions and helping those impacted by the rising cost of living.

We repeated our successful Sydney Streets program, transforming 8 high streets into spaces for walking, shopping and dining. More than 400 businesses took part, trading on the street and activating spaces with outdoor dining, food and retail stalls while 811 artists and performers were employed by us and local businesses to support the program.

We celebrated the return of event and festival programming to levels before the pandemic by opening our city and welcoming people from across New South Wales, interstate and overseas.

In late summer, our city was in the spotlight hosting Sydney WorldPride. The festival attracted an audience of more than 1 million people from 71 different countries and hosted the largest LGBTIQA+ Human Rights Conference ever held in the world. We celebrated the event with Progress Pride street signs, pride murals on the Top of The Town and the Burdekin Hotel, and proud and pink hoarding artwork by local artist Amy Blue on Oxford Street construction sites. We also refreshed the rainbow pedestrian crossing at Taylor Square and contributed more than $1.75 million in cash and in-kind support towards the staging of 470+ events, 7,000 artists and 3,450 volunteers for Sydney WorldPride.

We sponsored and supported many other events and festivals, bringing people together and back to our great city.

Featuring some of the best international and local acts and performing to strong audiences these included Sydney Fringe Festival, Sydney Festival, Sydney Writers' Festival, Sydney Film Festival, Vogue American Express Fashion Night Out, Biennale of Sydney, Sydney Gay and Lesbian Mardi Gras Parade, Yabun Festival, Australia Day in Sydney, Vivid's XCelebrate live music program, Australian Fashion Week, SXSW Sydney and a community event as part of the 50th anniversary of the Sydney Opera House.

While visitation to our city is rising, small businesses in our area and vulnerable communities face increasing challenges from the rising cost of living.

We continued our support for small businesses and innovators by offering our 12-week intensive accelerator business innovation program to 21 small businesses. While our 9-week Reboot webinar series for over 3,100 small businesses helped improve digital skills.

We provided 40,690 meals through our Meals on Wheels service and we provided 9 food relief related grants valued at $191,121, including support to First Nations Response which provides a weekly pop-up food relief service for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families. We began work on developing a food systems policy by researching Sydney's food systems with Charles Sturt University. We also co-hosted the inaugural Sydney urban agriculture forum in November at Sydney City Farm where we shared our research and priorities while hearing from experts including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander speakers.

The number of people sleeping rough in our city increased from 225 to 277 during our street counts in February. During the year, 192 people were assisted from homelessness and 172 people were prevented from becoming homeless as a result of programs funded by the City of Sydney. This represents a 31% increase compared to last year with high numbers of young people being supported into permanent accommodation by Launchpad.

We continued to be the voice for the community, advocating on your behalf with a wide range of state and national partners on matters such as homelessness, housing and transport, and with others in local and state government about implementing the Resilient Sydney program.

We completed numerous planning initiatives to support the wellbeing and culture of communities, including the Oxford Street cultural and creative precinct and the open and creative city reforms.

A state government led rezoning process is currently underway for Explorer Street, South Eveleigh. The City of Sydney continues to advocate for high quality design, more social and affordable housing than proposed by the NSW Government, and appropriate infrastructure to support future residents.

The City of Sydney's affordable housing levy came into effect across the local area in July 2021. The scheme is expected to create 1,950 more affordable dwellings. This will add to the 1,427 affordable rental housing units in the local area at the end of June. Planning proposals for NSW Land and Housing Corporation sites at Cowper Street in Glebe, Elizabeth Street in Redfern and Waterloo estate (south) will increase social and affordable housing.

To support affordable housing in Glebe, around $7.6 million from our employment lands affordable housing levy was allocated to Bridge Housing through a tender process with NSW Department of Communities and Justice. The City of Sydney also provided around $1.3 million in grants for affordable and diverse housing, and homelessness funding. It also initiated a requirement for a minimum amount of social and affordable housing that it is culturally appropriate for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander households in the design guide for the Waterloo estate (south).

We are recognising the cultural values of specific places and communities in planning controls and heritage listings. This includes the Chinese community in Haymarket, LGBTIQ+ communities in the Oxford Street precinct and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities in Botany Road.

We have opened more public spaces for the community to get out and enjoy, including a new park in Green Square, the Drying Green, and installing new seating and planting trees along the George Street boulevard. The area of parks and open space the City of Sydney manages has increased to 218ha.

In partnership with the Department of Education, we completed the Alexandria Park Community School sports field and continue working on the new Green Square primary school and community spaces on the former South Sydney Hospital site.

I am proud of all the City of Sydney achieves and thank our employees, under the wonderful leadership of CEO Monica Barone.

Lord Mayor

Message from the CEO

As pandemic restrictions were lifted across our city, I was delighted to see how our communities have begun to reconnect and re-engage in our many diverse activities, festivals and events across the City in the last year.

We have been encouraged with a 71% increase in visitors to our aquatic and leisure centres (1.8 million). We welcomed 16,036 new members to our libraries and library attendances increased by 126% from the previous year. People using our sports fields remained high this year at 93% despite the impact of more wet days in 2022, while our tennis courts were used 67% and Perry Park Recreation Centre 90% of the time.

We continued to offer our communities a wide range of services and introduced new programs. These included Yurungai swimming classes providing valuable aquatic education for Barnardos Aboriginal Services at Ian Thorpe Aquatic Centre, youth social tennis at Alexandria Park fostering community integration for new migrants and refugees, and Rainbow tennis at Prince Alfred Park promoting physical activity and social interaction for LGBTIQ+ communities and a ladies tennis clinic.

We offered a range of community centre programs to ensure social inclusion, connection and participation. A total of 137 programs were offered, with 259,908 attendances.

In our libraries, 308,639 free Wi-Fi public sessions were accessed, an increase of 143%. Free Wi-Fi was also offered in 12 community centres and education and care services facilities for use by community members and children.

We also continued work to enhance our public IT systems and services. This included refreshing public access to IT equipment and upgrading Wi-Fi services across our community centres. We have 213 public access computers and 20 multifunction devices across 19 facilities providing free access to internet, printing, scanning, photocopying, Microsoft Office and Adobe Creative software. This enables our community to have vital access to technology.

We added a virtual assistant to improve the digital experience for our community. The chatbot covers information about our libraries, noise, rates and parking related enquiries. This year 63% of enquiries were made to us through online services – an increase from 57% last year.

The City of Sydney became a Disability Confident Recruiter with the Australian Network on Disability and joined the Australian Human Rights Commission's IncludeAbility Employer Network. We also partnered with Jigsaw to support the placement of 3 neurodiverse employees.

Other highlights from our activities over the past year include:

- awarding 40 environmental grants for $672,380 including a grant to the Bower Reuse and Repair Centre to present a 2-week festival focusing on reusing and repairing items instead of disposal
- opening our Ultimo Recycling Pop-Up at Bay Street Depot for residents to walk up and recycle items where 905 residents have dropped off 7.5 tonnes of items since opening in November with the most popular being electronics, batteries and light bulbs

About the City of Sydney

The City of Sydney – roles and responsibilities

The City of Sydney is a local government organisation governed by the requirements of the NSW Local Government Act 1993 and Regulation, the City of Sydney Act 1988 and other relevant legislative provisions.

Councils exist to:

- provide a representative, informed and responsible decision-making body
- develop the local community and its resources in a socially just and environmentally responsible way
- ensure local public services and facilities respond effectively to community needs.

Council policy, strategic directions and major corporate decisions are determined by the elected Council, chaired by the Lord Mayor. Day to day operations are largely delegated to the Chief Executive Officer or managed in conjunction with the Lord Mayor, as provided for in council resolutions and delegations, and in line with relevant legislation.

The Local Government Act includes principles for local government which identify the matters councils need to consider when carrying out their responsibilities. While following these guiding principles, in reality councils have a range of roles – as a leader, service provider, regulator, advocator, facilitator and educator.

Councils have a responsibility to formulate and pursue their community's vision and ideas, provide civic leadership, provide key services and express local ideas and concerns about important issues to other levels of government.

There are services that all councils must provide, and some that councils can choose to make available. Many services are also provided by different NSW and federal agencies, such as public transport, hospitals and education. There are new policy approaches that influence or direct the City of Sydney's responses, and legislation that affects the provision of current services.

Functional responsibilities

- Provide for local services and manage facilities that benefit ratepayers, residents and visitors.
- Protect the environment and improve local amenity.
- Represent and promote the interests of ratepayers and residents.
- Attract and provide infrastructure for commerce, tourism and industry.
- Establish and support organisations and programs targeting the local community.
- Protect health and provide for the welfare, wellbeing and interests of the local community.
- Provide for development in the local area.
- Manage, improve and develop resources available to Council.

The City of Sydney's roles extend beyond providing services to advocating for an equitable allocation of resources from the NSW and federal governments.

The chart below shows the City of Sydney’s organisational structure and senior executive. The directors lead the provision of key services and delivery of programs and projects to achieve the community’s vision.

The integrated planning and reporting framework

Integrated Planning and Reporting (IP&R) allows councils to bring plans and strategies together in a way that supports a clear vision for the future and provides an agreed roadmap for delivering community priorities and aspirations. While councils lead the IP&R process, it is a journey that they undertake in close consultation with communities, elected representatives, other levels of government and the private sector.

IP&R gives the City of Sydney a framework for identifying the priorities of its many communities and creating a holistic planning approach to achieve those goals in a sustainable way, given the resources available.

Introduced by the NSW Government in 2009, the integrated planning and reporting framework is one of the principles of the Local Government Act and applies to all NSW councils.

Using this framework, the City of Sydney has prepared numerous plans that detail how we intend to deliver on the communities' priorities identified through consultation and engagement, which is articulated in Sustainable Sydney 2030–2050 Continuing the Vision and the Community Strategic Plan Delivering Sustainable Sydney 2030–2050.

The framework provides the mechanism for implementing Sustainable Sydney 2030–2050 Continuing the Vision, and the Community Strategic Plan Delivering Sustainable Sydney 2030–2050 is the highest-level plan within this framework. It was adopted in June 2022 after extensive community consultation.

The diagram below illustrates our IP&R framework suite of documents and how they are interrelated. It is adapted from the NSW Office of Local Government Guidelines, available from olg.nsw.gov.au

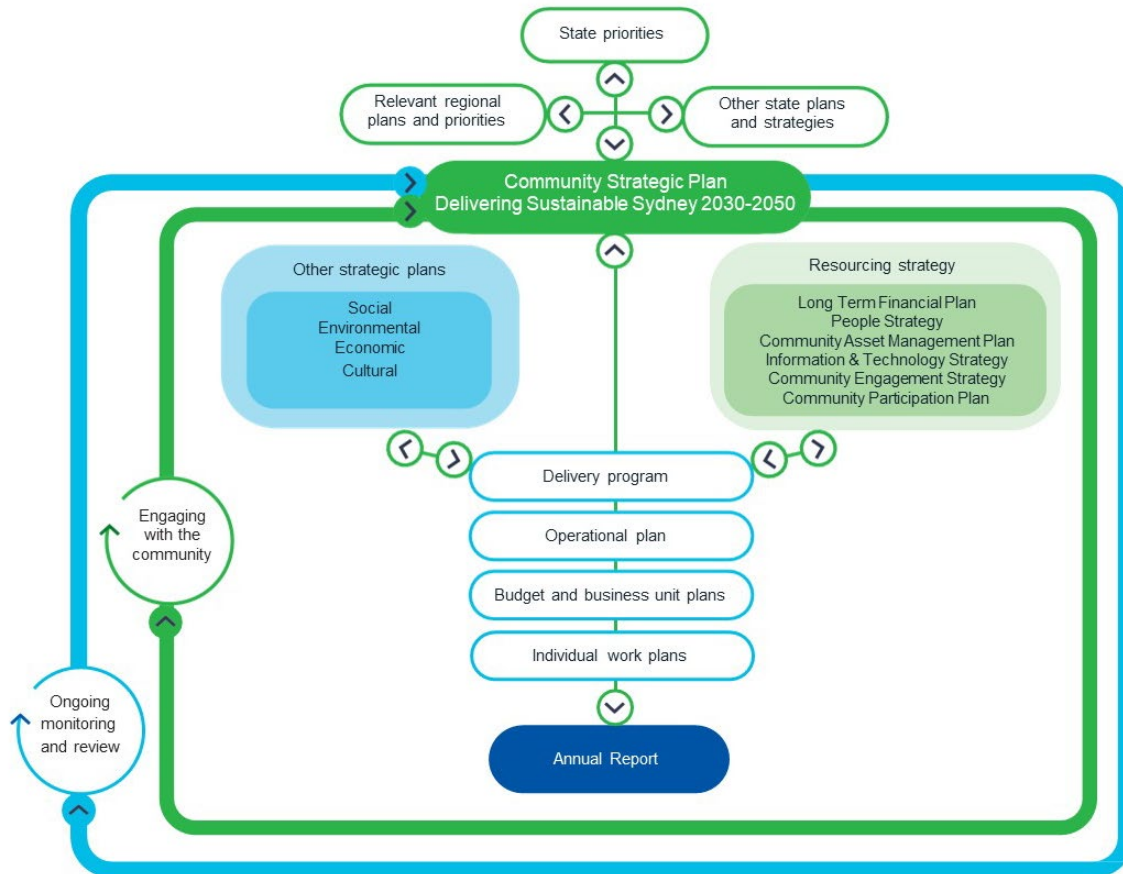

Image 6. Integrated planning and reporting framework diagram adapted from Office of Local Government (OLG)

How the documents relate

The suite of integrated planning documents represents the City of Sydney’s response to the statutory framework for planning and reporting.

The community strategic plan Delivering Sustainable Sydney 2030–2050 is the highest level plan that we will prepare. It was developed with, and on behalf of, the communities we serve. It identifies the community’s main priorities and aspirations and guides all our other strategies and plans which help us to achieve these.

It takes a long-term view, identifying issues and opportunities to be addressed in the city over the next 3 decades. We update this plan every 4 years, in line with government requirements, and to adapt to changing circumstances and community aspirations. The community strategic plan is structured around 10 strategic directions.

The delivery program acts as the link between the long-term community strategic plan and the annual operational plan.

Our delivery program 2022–2026 identifies the actions we will take over 4 years that support the community strategic plan outcomes. The delivery program structure reflects the community strategic plan with activities aligned with the 10 strategic directions.

Our operational plan is an annual plan with more details of individual activities. It sets out the specific projects, programs and activities to be delivered in the year ahead and is aligned with our delivery program. It also includes the City of Sydney's statement of revenue policy for rates and annual charges, the fees and charges schedule, details of the grants and sponsorship program and other relevant budgetary information.

Our annual report consists of 3 components – financial statements, statutory returns and our delivery program progress report (this document) which are all at cityofsydney.nsw.gov.au

Resourcing the plan

To support the community's objectives expressed in the community strategic plan a long-term resourcing strategy is required as part of the IP&R framework.

The resourcing strategy ensures the City of Sydney has adequate resources to achieve the planned outcomes for which it is responsible, while maintaining the long-term sustainability of the organisation.

The resourcing strategy spans a period of 10 years and has 5 components:

1. Long term financial plan

The long term financial plan is a 10 year plan that identifies current and future financial capacity to act on the aspirations of the community strategic plan, including providing high quality services, facilities and infrastructure to the community.

2. People (workforce) strategy

The people strategy outlines the key issues impacting the City of Sydney's workforce and seeks to guide people related decision making, priorities and investment to support the outcomes in the community strategic plan.

3. Community asset management plan

The asset management plan ensures appropriate standards for maintenance and renewal of key assets, detailing status and resource requirements. These assets are valued at approximately $13 billion (including land) under City of Sydney care and control.

4. Information and technology strategy

This strategy sets the information and technology direction and priorities that are aligned with the community strategic plan, community needs and government information and data policies. It guides information and technology related decision making, priorities and investment.

5. Community engagement strategy and community participation plan

The community engagement strategy sets out a framework for how we consult diverse communities and collaborate, involve and empower communities to take part in shaping the future of our city.

The community participation plan is included in the community engagement strategy to make it easier for community members to understand. However, it can read as a stand-alone plan that responds to the requirements of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act.

The resourcing strategy should be read in conjunction with the delivery program and the operational plan to identify the resourcing needs for our activities.

Image 7. Sydney of Sydney 2023 resourcing strategy and integrated documents

Monitoring and review

The City’s key plans are prepared and updated periodically in line with the IPR framework and OLG Guidelines and are subject to a review following the election of each new Council. The review process includes extensive engagement and input from all business units at the City and feedback from the community from submissions and other engagement activities, as well as consideration of planning priorities of other levels of government and agencies.

The IP&R framework includes a reporting process to communicate how we are progressing towards our Community Strategic Plan Delivering Sustainable Sydney 2030-2050 to the Council and the community. We do this through half-yearly, annual and four-yearly performance reports and quarterly and yearly financial reports to council.

Additionally, Sustainable Sydney 2030-2050 Continuing the Vision and the community strategic plan contain 10 targets to measure progress.

Community Strategic Plan – Delivering Sustainable Sydney 2030 – 2050 Targets

Progress against our targets

We have 10 targets in our community strategic plan which are structured around our 10 strategic directions. A snapshot of our progress is below.

	Sustainable Sydney Target	Progress
	By 2035 we will achieve net zero emissions in the City of Sydney local area	As at June 2022, annual greenhouse gas emissions had decreased by 41 per cent across the local government area, based on 2006 levels.
	By 2050 there will be a minimum overall green cover of 40%, including 27% tree canopy cover.	Total canopy cover of the local government area has increased from 15.5 per cent in 2008 to 19.8 per cent in 2022. In our area 30.6 per cent was green cover.
	By 2030 residential potable water use will be reduced to 170 litres a person a day in the City of Sydney local area. Non-residential potable water use will be reduced by 10% (measured per square metre) from 2018/19 levels.	In 2021/22, each person in the City of Sydney local area used 204 litres of water each day. Non-residential potable water use decreased 32% from the 2019 baseline.
	By 2030 there will be a 15% reduction in waste generated by each person based on 2015 levels. And by 2030 there will be 90% recycling and recovery of residential waste, commercial and industrial waste, and construction and demolition waste, which will be maintained at that level to 2050.	In 2022/23 there was an 11% reduction in the amount of residential waste collected per capita from the 2015 baseline. 51% of residential waste, 47% of commercial and industrial waste and 76% of construction and demolition waste was diverted from landfill in 2022/23.

 By 2036 there will be approximately 700,000 jobs in the City of Sydney local area including 200,000 new jobs compared to 2017. An increased proportion of all jobs will be secure jobs.	There were 501,786 jobs in the local area at last count in 2017. The next release of data, sourced from the City of Sydney Floorspace and Employment Survey undertaken in 2022/23, will be updated next year.
 By 2036 there will be at least 156,000 private dwellings and 17,500 non-private dwellings that include boarding houses and student accommodation. Of the private dwellings, 7.5% will be social housing and 7.5% will be affordable housing with this proportion maintained into the future.	As at June 2022, in the local area there were: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 122,444 private dwellings and 15,740 non-private dwellings. • an estimated 9,691 social housing dwellings, representing 7.8 per cent of overall housing supply. • 1,427¹ built affordable housing dwellings, 641 dwellings in the development pipeline and a further 1,152 that we expect to be built in the future. The City's LGA wide affordable housing levy came into effect in July 2021. The City's levy scheme is projected to deliver an additional 1,950 affordable dwellings. If considered all together, the built, pipeline, expected and projected affordable housing dwellings will equal 5,170 affordable rental dwellings and affordable diverse dwellings to 2036. This equates to 43 percent of the 12,000 affordable dwellings target for 2036, or about 3.3 percent of the private dwellings target for 2036.
 By 2036 there will be at least 40,000m2 of new cultural production floor space in the City of Sydney local area compared to 2017.	Between 2012 and 2017, the city's creative floor space decreased by more than 100,000m2. The next release of data sourced from the City of Sydney Floorspace and Employment Survey undertaken in 2022/23 will be updated next year.

Sustainable Sydney Target	Progress
 By 2050 people will use public transport, walk or cycle to travel to and from work. This includes 9 out of 10 people working in the city centre and 2 out of 3 people working in the rest of the local area.	At the time of the 2021 Census, the proportion of workers who used public transport, walked or cycled to come to work in our area was 51.4%. (70.4% in 2011, 74.0% in 2016). The 2021 Census was conducted during a lockdown where many people worked from home and the result of 51.4% using public transport/cycling/walking is not an accurate representation of the longer term trends of public and active transport use.
 By 2030 every resident will be around a 10-minute walk to what they need for daily life.	As at June 2017, the following proportions of residents live within a 10-minute walk (800m) of the following services: fresh food – 99.96 per cent, childcare – 99.39 per cent, health – 100 per cent, leisure – 99.99 per cent, social – 94.98 per cent, learning – 99.98 per cent and cultural – 98.09 per cent. The next release of data, sourced from the City of Sydney Floorspace and Employment Survey undertaken in 2022/23, will be updated next year.
 By 2050 community cohesion and social interaction will have increased. This is based on at least 75% of the local resident population feeling part of the community, agreeing most people can be trusted and believing that when needed, they can get help from their neighbours.	The 2023 wellbeing indicators showed that 72 per cent of those surveyed believed that most people can be trusted. That was unchanged from 2018, up from the baseline of 67 per cent in 2011 but slightly lower than the 2015 result of 75 per cent.

Presentations, discussions and questions covered councils collective waste challenges, common needs, and shared points of advocacy. Councils were encouraged to issue a Mayoral Minute on the subject with their respective Council and progress key issues. Following Council approval to proceed, in June 2023, a new three year contract with the potential to extend to seven years was confirmed for the Resilient Sydney Platform, supporting a welcome longer term approach to sharing data and knowledge across Sydney to support collaborations between councils and with the state government focussed on urban heat, urban greening, resilient places, affordable housing policy and net zero planning. The City's first fully electric commercial vehicle has been deployed as part of a strategy to expand electric vehicle numbers. This vehicle is being trialled and assessed to assist and inform future purchasing decisions. Further electric (or low emissions) alternatives to other plant and equipment are being progressed.	On Track
Actively manage the replacement of conventional lights with LED lights for all public domain light types in the city	The change-over of Ausgrid-owned street lights to LED lights on residential streets is complete with over 3,000 light fittings upgraded and a reduction in electrical consumption of approximately 750 MWh a year, representing 2.5% of the City's grid electricity use. The changeover of Ausgrid-owned street lights to LED lights on main roads is nearly complete. To date, 4,373 out of 4,517 main road light fittings (96.8%) have been upgraded. This stage of the program will realise a further reduction in the City's electrical consumption of 3,000 MWh/year.	On Track

CitySwitch reporting is tracking national member progress against a net zero pathway. Collective results indicate the average annual carbon emissions intensity of Sydney tenancies is 48kg Co2-e per sqm and average electricity intensity is 52 kWh per sqm. Of tenancies in Sydney, 66% have switched to renewables and the average NABERS energy rating is 5 stars. Five Better Buildings Partnership members are Climate Active certified with 30 member owned buildings in our local area Climate Active carbon neutral certified and 50% have a pathway to electrification. Smart Green Apartments and Green Building Grants are supporting residential strata communities to become more energy efficient, understand options for electrification and procure renewables. Continue to support the community's adoption of renewable energy in line with the City's 50% renewable electricity by 2030 target	A Renewables Masterclass Series was created to support businesses to switch to 100% renewable electricity and reduce the uncertainty and expense of volatile electricity costs. It was designed and delivered in partnership with the Business Renewables Centre Australia for CitySwitch, Sustainable Destination Partnership members and other interested businesses. Tailored information on GreenPower and power purchase agreements was delivered across two face to face events and four webinars. There were 449 registrations, and 258 attendees in total across the six events representing 168 business such as CBRE, Australian Legal Sector Alliance, Marriot, Powerhouse Museum, Australia Post and Wesfarmers. The GreenPower for Business guide is being shared widely with business partnerships, industry bodies, Local Governments, GreenPower and NABERS teams. Total rooftop solar has increased, with 23% more rooftop solar installations over the last year compared to FY22. There is now 25.8 MW of solar on 2,348 rooftops.	On Track
Actively participate in industry groups committed to creating a market for low embodied carbon steel, concrete and aluminium	The City continues to participate in the industry-led Materials Embodied Carbon Leadership Alliance (MECLA) for market transformation to low carbon materials that is advocating for the Australian Government to publish embodied emissions factors to make reporting more consistent and transparent. Zero emissions transport

Advocate to the Australian and NSW Governments on key transport emissions reduction (carbon emissions and local air quality) improvement opportunities	The City's Electrification of Transport Strategy includes various advocacy priorities including electrification of transport, vehicle fuel emissions standards, and prioritisation of electric busses in key routes. The City contributed to a submission by the Council for Capital Cities Lord Mayors (CCCLM) to the Australian Government on Vehicle Fuel Emissions standards during the reporting period.	On Track
Continue to support more people walking, riding bicycles and catching zero emissions public transport	Council approved exhibition of the City's Draft Access Strategy and Action Plan – Continuing the Vision at the June 2023 meeting. The Action Plan comprises 17 actions. The adoption of the draft City North Public Domain Plan outlines the City's current vision for more space for people on foot. The City is also engaged with Transport for NSW on transport planning in Pyrmont to support the Government's Place Strategy, and its emphasis on walking and public transport. The City's overall approach to reducing transport system emissions is the Electrification of City Transport - Strategy and Action Plan approved by Council in June 2023. As part of the Strategy, the City will continue to advocate for zero emission buses, with the highest priority being the electrification of the 304 bus route through Green Square.	On Track
Advocate to the NSW Government for zero emissions buses	Advocacy for zero emissions buses is a key action in the City's adopted Electrification of Transport in the City Strategy and Action Plan. Council approved exhibition of the City's Draft Access Strategy and Action Plan – Continuing the Vision at the June 2023 meeting. Zero emissions buses are a key component of multiple actions, especially for connections to Green Square; Green Avenues such as Broadway; and for city centre amenity improvement. The new NSW Government is undertaking a review of the bus industry. City staff attended a stakeholder roundtable in June and made representations about the importance of accelerated transition to zero emissions buses.	On Track

2.2 Greening has increased to create a cool, calm, and resilient city

Major Programs	Progress To Date	Status
Urban greening and canopy cover
Deliver landscaping of parks, streets and City spaces to achieve the City's greening target	10,837 m2 of new and refurbished greening completed for the Financial year 22/23. 836 m2 completed for the month of June 2023.	On Track
Continue to deliver tree planting programs to maximise urban canopy and reduce the impacts of the urban heat island effect	Projects to increase canopy cover have continued. To date a total of 910 trees have been planted, including 574 street trees and 336 park trees. The iconic park tree planting project has been completed. The in road planting projects have progressed, with the completion of Chelsea Street, Redfern, Crystal Street Plaza and Briggs St Camperdown. Work is underway in Durdans St Rosebery and will soon commence in Smail Street, Ultimo and Hawksley Road, Waterloo. Community consultation, feasibility and concept designs and traffic committee approvals are underway for two streets in Beaconsfield.	On Track
Urban greening resilience
Improve urban greening resilience and diversity by reviewing the City's relevant policies and plans	The review of the Urban Forest Strategy, Street Tree Master Plan, and Tree Management Policy and Tree Donation Policy is now complete. Council adopted the amended Strategy, Plan and Policy on 26 June 2023. This review process included extensive community consultation, with 559 early community engagement comments for the Street Tree Master Plan in mid 2022. A further 164 comments were received on the Strategy, Plan and Policy during the public exhibition period, which ran from mid December and to 28 February. Following Council's adoption, the Strategy, Plan and Policy and now being implemented.	On Track
Habitat and biodiversity
Continue to expand, improve and protect bush regeneration areas and habitat for native fauna in the City's parks and open spaces	Bush restoration sites continue to be maintained to improve habitat value for native flora and fauna. Targeted hand weeding and knapsack spraying has been performed to control exotic grasses and annual weeds, resulting in continual improvements in the diversity and density of native flora species. Infill planting has taken place at several sites to promote increased biodiversity, and to outcompete exotic weeds. Favourable conditions have meant natives planted previously are establishing well, and many native plants are naturally regenerating, seeding and spreading, all of which will aid in ongoing weed suppression and habitat creation. Native birds, lizards and insects are frequently reported to be using the restoration sites. New areas have been mapped for bush restoration that will be included for management in the 2024 bush restoration contract.	On Track
Community greening
Support and promote the development of community gardens, footpath gardening, laneway greening, and sites maintained and managed by community volunteer groups	The City currently supports 23 community gardens, including two footpath verge gardens, and three active Landcare groups which engage over 850 community volunteers. The City encourages gardens to become self-managed to a high standard and assists groups through access to grants and donation of materials and plants, including sourcing native plants from a local Indigenous nursery. Two new volunteer bushcare groups are establishing at Sydney Park and the Nurses Memorial garden, Camperdown with a third group proposed for the Annandale/Glebe area.	On Track

2.3 Water is managed to support a resilient, sustainable, and liveable city

Major Programs	Progress To Date	Status
Reduce water use
Reduce potable water consumption in the City's parks through efficiency measures, continuous improvement of park management practices and identifying opportunities for use of recycled or alternative water sources	Parks potable water use for 2022/23 was 111M or 87% of the 2006 baseline target. Despite being within target there was a 14% increase on the previous year which was due to dryer weather conditions. The City's 20 water harvesting systems in parks generated 49ML of recycled water to replace potable water used in irrigation. Efficiency measures implemented include automatic wet weather and winter shut off systems, system control improvements and preparation for dryer weather. Water harvesting works scheduled for 2024 will increase recycled water availability to be provided at Solander Park, Harry Noble Reserve and Erskineville Oval.	On Track
Water sensitive city
Partner with Sydney Water to support business and strata communities to improve water performance	No buildings in the current round of Smart Green Apartments have water use high enough to qualify for Strata Waterfix, however all have had NABERS Water ratings done as part of the program. Incoming grant buildings will be assessed for this. Sydney Water did not renew its business water saving partnership with Local Governments.	On Track
Work with Sydney Water to facilitate delivery of recycled water in the Central Business District	To align direction, the City of Sydney team conducted strategic meetings with Sydney Water and key external stakeholders. The City is waiting on technical and financial feasibility study from Sydney Water.	On Track
Stormwater quality
Implement and renew Pollution Control Devices and other stormwater systems to reduce stormwater pollution discharged to waterways	Gross pollutant traps will continue to be added to the City's stormwater drainage network to assist in achieving stormwater quality improvement targets for receiving waterways. The City also has a maintenance program for gross pollutant traps and renewal program for raingardens to ensure performance is optimised.	On Track

2.4 A circular economy approach is embedded in products, services, and systems

Major Programs	Progress To Date	Status
Reduce waste from City operations
Review and update recycling streams and collection receptacles in City properties and implement an education and behaviour change program to increase recycling and reduce contamination	Internal bin signage was updated in City buildings to increase recycling outcomes and reduce contamination. Organic recycling was introduced at Ultimo Community Centre and Bay Street depot in FY 23. On-site meetings were conducted with participants to increase awareness on the initiative. A single use avoidance project was introduced at Town Hall House in April this year. A mug library was implemented in the café on Level 1, to encourage staff to take reusable mugs instead of single use coffee cups. The initiative was supported with a comms campaign to increase uptake.	On Track
Engage with contracted service providers to develop a pathway for reuse and refurbishment of strip out waste from City buildings	Communication drive regularly conducted to increase waste reporting from projects in the construction phase. Support for timely and accurate reporting of construction and demolition waste continues to be provided to project managers and contractors. A methodology for identifying office strip out projects is being investigated.	On Track
Sustainable procurement
Implement Social and Sustainable Procurement guidelines and related documentation and ensure it is incorporated into procurement planning and processes in relation to targeted relevant categories	Social and sustainability considerations are included in selected tender returnable schedules. These will continue to be refined and developed across our procurement planning and processes for relevant categories to optimise spend and outcomes.	On Track
Circular economy
Engage with industry and other stakeholders to create opportunities for development of circular economy outcomes in our local area	The City is regularly engaging with industry, academia and not for profit organisations to support and advocate for a transition to a more circular economy. The City continues to support new ideas and innovations through our grants programs and City staff are active in stakeholder engagement and working groups that focus on the delivery of these outcomes such as the Green Building Council of Australia, Tech Central and the Australian Packaging Covenant Organisation.	On Track
Advocacy
Advocate for NSW Government allocation of appropriate land resources to waste treatment, improved waste data, expanded product stewardship, funding for education and maintaining landfill levy	The City is working with other Sydney metropolitan councils to develop an advocacy plan for improved resource recovery outcomes and waste infrastructure planning. In May this year, the City hosted around 140 Mayors, Councillors, General Managers/CEOs and management staff from Greater Sydney and Metropolitan Councils for the Metropolitan Sydney Mayoral Summit on Waste. The summit highlighted the critical need for all councils to work together to bring real change to manage our waste into the future, while we transition to a more circular economy. Industry-wide challenges include a limited number of suppliers, a lack of processing infrastructure and a shortage of readily accessible waste collection and transfer sites. The summit culminated with each council preparing a Lord Mayor Minute committing to work as a region to advocate to state and federal government for increased extended producer responsibilities, greater reinvestment of the waste levy, increase buying power for materials with recycled content and collective focus on infrastructure. Implement Resource Recovery Engagement Action Plans to foster a community that avoids, reuses and reduces waste

City staff have delivered a total of 616 activities and engaged with 6,420 residents this year to encourage recycling and waste avoidance behaviours.

To help improve recycling at the source, 24 apartment buildings received the Recycle Helper Service this year. Also 20 apartment buildings with 2390 residences took part in a chute signage installation pilot, to further test how signage can improve recycling behaviours at the source.

City staff engaged with 3775 residents, workers, and visitors and provided education across 47 recycling and reuse pop-up info stalls at community events and spaces. Staff also educated 899 residents across nine pop-up stalls in shopping centres on simple behaviours to adopt to be more waste wise at the shops. To complement in-person education, staff presented free webinars live across 21 sessions to 338 residents on how to recycle tricky items, why reducing waste matters and what happens to their recycling after it's collected.

To encourage clothing reuse and repair, City staff held four clothing swaps where 472 participants re-circulated 723kg of clothing within the community through swapping, and delivered 26 sewing and repair workshops, where 347 participants learnt simple clothing repair skills to refresh and extend the life of their clothes.

Through the 'Ask A Waste Expert' online service, City staff responded to 719 questions from 454 residents to support residents to reuse, reduce and recycle right, with their most frequently asked questions being how to recycle plastics and small electronics.

Staff completed a total of 610 waste planning requests this year to ensure developments are built to optimise recycling and recovery of materials. This included 247 DA referrals, 100 re-referrals, 112 panel requests and 149 other requests such as conditions satisfied, pre-development applications, planning enquiries, consultant enquiries.

Plan to implement a food organics recycling service across the local government area for residents

The City concluded its trial of a residential food scraps recycling service at the end of October 2021. Since then, the City has continued to provide the food scraps recycling service to properties that participated in the trial and been working on how to make the service available to all residential properties in line with the state government mandate for councils to provide a food waste collection service to all households by 2030.

On Track

Increase recycling and reuse opportunities of textiles, soft plastics, electronics and other tricky items through innovative drop-off events and services for residents

The City hosted four quarterly Recycle It Saturday events over the year which attracted 3,182 people that dropped off 70.91 tonnes of materials for reuse and recycling. The most popular items dropped off were electronics, textiles, small metals and car batteries. Over the year, two new streams of coffee pods and small metals were added to bring items accepted up to 14. The events are delivered in partnership with Waverley and Woollahra Councils to make the event accessible to a wider community and increase operational efficiencies across the three Councils.

On Track

The Ultimo Recycling Pop-Up at Bay Street Depot opened on 29 November 2022 for local residents to walk-up and recycle up to 12 streams of tricky items. Since opening 905 residents have dropped off 7.5 tonnes of tricky items for recycling, with the most popular items being electronics, batteries and light bulbs. An additional 229 residents stopped by to ask questions about the pop-up.

To make it more convenient for the community to recycle, the City has expanded and upgraded our recycling stations by adding an additional stream for small electronics and increasing the number of stations to 16 locations across the LGA. This means that now over 80% of City residents live within a 750 meter walk of a recycling station. Over the year, the recycling stations collected 2,460kgs of materials (273kgs in mobile phones, 1,230kgs batteries, 354kgs light bulbs and 603kgs of small electronics).

To maximise recycling opportunities for residents, the City collected 32 tonnes of tricky items (including wearable and unwearable clothes, electronics and polystyrene) from 6,123 pickups directly from residents' homes through the doorstep recycling service.

Conduct targeted patrols in the public domain to address illegal dumping, discarded cigarette butts, littering and other activity which is contrary to the provisions of the Protection of the Environment Operations Act

Rangers have completed 3728 hours of targeted patrols and issued 214 notices to address illegal dumping and activity which is contrary to the provisions of the Environmental Operations Act.

Efficient cleansing and waste services

Manage the collection of waste including scheduling of waste collection services to ensure the least disruption to the community

During the year there were some delays to collection services due to labour market shortages and industrial action by Cleanaway workers. To minimise disruption to the community, the City activated the Cleansing and Waste Services business continuity plan, established an incident response team, and implemented a communications plan to keep residents informed.

Programs and partnerships

Implement projects, programs and advocate to improve environmental performance in the commercial office sector

Sydney's Sustainable Office Plan seeks to drive decarbonisation and sustainability through national corporate portfolios and our focus is working in partnership with business, government and industry through the Better Buildings Partnership (BBP) and CitySwitch program. The Better Buildings Partnership progressed projects on electrification, a circular economy approach to office fit-outs, green leases and resilience. The FY22 annual report was delivered showing 82% stationary emissions intensity reduction and 78% water intensity reduction since FY06. CitySwitch launched a net zero pathway to business, followed by three campaigns focused on measuring emissions, switching to renewables and engaging corporate teams to drive climate action. National events were held to release the annual report. Results show 543 signatories managing 1,171 tenancies engage in the program, with an average emissions intensity of 71kg CO₂/m² and 27% choose renewable electricity. In Sydney 142 businesses engage in the program and have an average emissions intensity of 48kgCO₂/m² and 66% choose renewable electricity.

Masterclasses were delivered with the Business Renewables Centre to support businesses procure 100% renewable electricity. New partners were welcomed to the Sustainable Destination Partnership, including Destination NSW as a key strategic associate, as well as two hotel chain operators - Salter Brothers and EVT. City of Sydney collaborated with Business Events Sydney to complete Sydney's 2023 Global Destination Sustainability Index submission with results yet to be released.

Work with neighbouring councils, state and federal governments to implement a cycleway network across Sydney	While we build our own cycleway network, city staff have also been giving input, support and technical advice to staff at TfNSW and many councils. City staff gave conference presentations on accelerating delivery of cycleways. City staff have also been working to get Transport for NSW to fix key missing links with neighbouring councils, such as the state road section of Wilson Street in Newtown, between King Street and Erskineville Road, to connect the Inner West and City of Sydney bike networks. UNSW Australian Graduate School of Engineering started running a Cycleway Design Course, an initiative prompted by City staff.	On Track

Efficient freight and servicing

Work with the NSW Government and businesses to develop new and innovative solutions to freight and servicing, including more productivity from loading spaces and exploring higher-amenity options for "last mile" distribution	Council approved exhibition of the City's Draft Access Strategy and Action Plan – Continuing the Vision at the June 2023 meeting. The City worked with Transport for NSW to discuss potential last-mile options for locations including future Hunter Street Metro precinct, and south George Street. City staff provided Transport for NSW an opportunity to comment on an early draft of a revised Central Sydney On-Street Parking Policy. The revision makes clearer the relationship between public domain improvements, availability of off-street loading and the potential to reallocate kerb loading to other uses. The City aims to seek Council approval to exhibit the revised draft shortly.	On Track

Manage parking and kerbside space

Ensure the Neighbourhood Parking Policy and kerbside allocation support city outcomes, such as the need for access for people with disabilities	The Neighbourhood Parking Policy sets the framework for kerbside allocation outside Central Sydney. City Staff have reviewed the Policy with a view to seeking Council approval to exhibit an updated Draft Policy shortly. The City works with the community to continually improve the alignment of kerbside parking restrictions with the location-specific needs of residents, businesses and their visitors. City staff use the Policy when determining kerbside allocation in response to community feedback (such as the Elger Street Glebe representations); major public domain changes (Crown Street upgrade) and cycleways. In response to the City's Inclusion (Disability) Action plan, City staff undertook a "gaps analysis" of mobility space provision around village main streets and key locations. Operational staff are reviewing the identified locations of potential additional spaces (or pick-up/drop-off facilities) with a view to increasing supply.	On Track

Attachment A - Estimated Resident Population Re-baselining

There are a number of Community Strategic Plan Delivering Sustainable Sydney 2030-2050 targets and Operational Plan and Green Report measures that use the City of Sydney’s residential population based on the ERP to produce a per capita measure.

The 2021 population of the city is now calculated at 214,851, which is 27,386 residents less than the un-rebased ERP estimate of 242,237, equal to an -11.3% change.

BACKGROUND

The estimated resident population (ERP) is the official estimate of the Australian population, which links people to a place of usual residence within Australia. The ERP excludes visitors (international and domestic) and is reported by the Australian Bureau of Statistics. The ERP is updated annually using the previous Census as a base (i.e., in 2006, 2011, 2016 etc.) then applying changes to the local population based on Medicare and electoral role counts (amongst other data sources). The ERP between each Census (intercensal) is known as the unrebased ERP.

The impacts of Covid-19 led to the city’s ERP declining for the first time in more than 30 years. Various events, including the lockout of international students, sea-changers and tree-changers working remotely, and lack of work forcing people to move, were the main causes of the population decline.

The ABS issued their final intercensal ERP for 2021 in late March 2022. The unrebased ERP was 242,237 (an estimated fall of 6,431 residents from June 2021). The ABS reissued their 2021 ERP numbers in July 2022, based on the results of the 2021 Census. The re-basing resulted in revision to the ERP data for the period 2017 to 2021.

The chart below shows the distribution of the intercensal difference for the ERP spread from 2017 to 2021.

Other local government areas were also impacted by the reissued ERP data. The following table shows the impact of the re-baselined ERP in other local government areas in comparison to the City of Sydney.

2021 estimated resident population by local government area:

Local Government Area	Release date 29/03/2022	Release date 26/07/2022	Change	% change
Sydney	242,237	214,851	-27,386	-11.3%
Randwick	153,498	135,275	-18,223	-11.9%
Melbourne	169,860	153,674	-16,186	-9.5%
Inner West	199,759	183,772	-15,987	-8.0%
Darebin	162,501	150,335	-12,166	-7.5%
Moreland	184,707	173,541	-11,166	-6.0%
Gold Coast	643,461	633,764	-9,697	-1.5%
Port Phillip	112,092	103,508	-8,584	-7.7%
Brisbane	1,272,461	1,264,024	-8,437	-0.7%
Yarra	99,622	91,543	-8,079	-8.1%

The City of Sydney had the highest absolute reduction of -27,386 residents, nearly 10,000 more than Randwick.

Melbourne City was third with -16,186. Brisbane was 9th, but with a population of 1.2 million, the percentage change was less than 1%.

ISSUE

There are three operational plan measures which have been impacted by the ERP rebasing. The per capita results for these measures have been re-calculated in this paper based on the updated populations for those years to illustrate these results. More detailed information on how they have been impacted is provided below.

Sustainable Sydney 2030-2050 Delivering the Vision - Community Strategic Plan Target 3

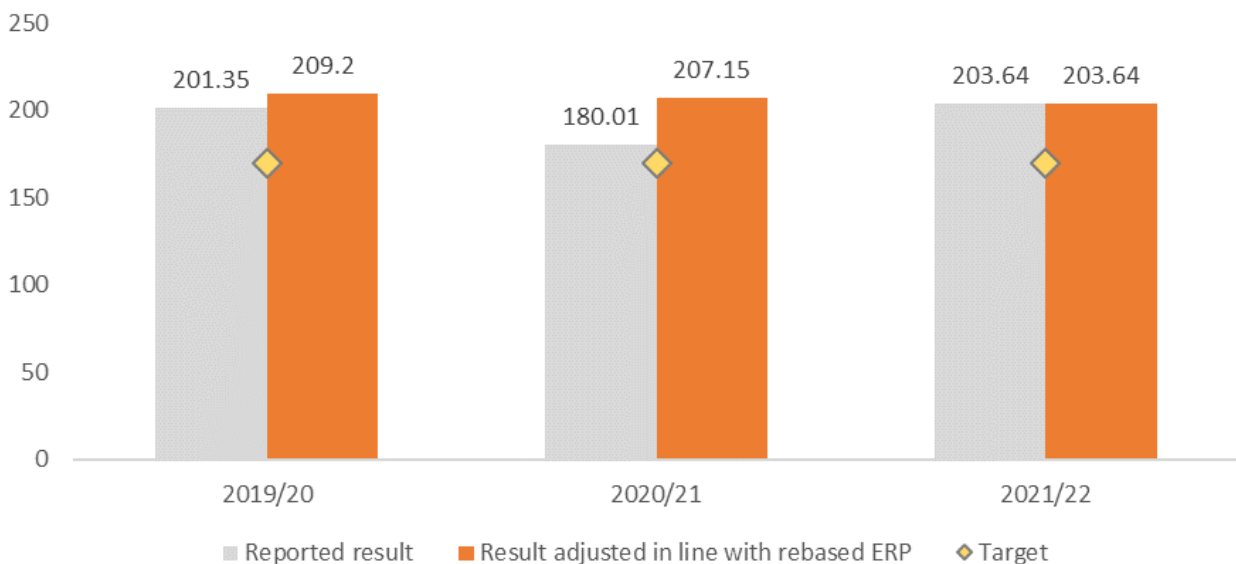

By 2030 residential potable water use will be reduced to 170 litres a person a day in the City of Sydney local area.

Sustainable Sydney 2030-2050 Delivering the Vision - Community Strategic Plan Target 4

By 2030 there will be a 15% reduction in waste generated by each person based on 2015 levels.

This measure captures the total amount of residential waste and then divides this amount by the current population.

Operational plan measure: Total residential waste collected (tonnes)

Waste per capita measures are calculated using total residential waste collected data. For reference this is shown in the chart below. This showed an upward trend during Covid-19 commencing in 2019/20 with a peak in 2021/22. For 2022/23 total residential waste collected has returned to pre Covid levels.
