Background

1. There are currently 10 development applications and two modification applications (as at 21 November 2023) to be considered by the Central Sydney Planning Committee (CSPC). These applications are listed in Attachment A.
2. The total stated value of all development applications currently under assessment is $3.8 Billion.
3. The value of applications to be considered by the CSPC is $2.7 Billion with an average of 142 net days from time of lodgement.
4. For comparison, there are 335 development applications outstanding to be determined under delegation or to be referred to the Local Planning Panel with a total value of $1.01 Billion with an average of 88 net days from time of lodgement.
5. A further 242 development related applications are also under assessment including applications to modify or review a determination, subdivision certificates, heritage works and footway applications.
6. Trend graphs in Attachment B show numbers and value of applications as well as the average outstanding days of development applications to be considered by the CSPC at the end of each quarter. The graphs represent the period from second quarter of 2022/23 to the first quarter of 2023/24.
7. There are two applications previously reported as requiring determination by the CSPC which are subject to an appeal. Details of those applications are shown in Attachment C.
